Faubus Stands Ground

Arkansas Hints At Abolishment Of Public Schools

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Reports the Arkansas Legislature may get a proposal to abolish the state's public school system circulated today.

They followed Gov. Orval E. Faubus' statement that the city's four high schools will remain closed this year unless the federal government yields in the integration deadlock.

Faubus could not be reached for comment on the reported plan to seek abandonment of the entire public school system.

But the governor indicated Friday that the Legislature may become an arena of the integration dispute.

Sources at the state capitol and an official of the Citizens Council said the legislature might be asked to establish a statewide system of private schools, to be effected through a state constitutional amendment.

The sources, who requested anonymity, said that if the plan is adopted, state support would be given white and Negro pupils on a per capital basis. Private agencies would operate all of the state's schools as segregated institutions and a student could choose the school he wanted to attend.

The sources said the plan also envisioned a "third school" for pupils who had no objections to integrated classes. These integrated schools would be operated privately.

U.S. Declares Invalid Little Rock's Plan

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The federal government said today the Little Rock School Board's leasing plan for opening the city's high schools on a segregated basis is invalid.

The government said this in a motion filed with the U.S. 8th Circuit Court of Appeals. Filing as amicus curiae, Latin for friend of the court, the government supported the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, which has asked for an injunction forbidding the leasing of the schools to the Little Private School Corp.

Campaigns Spurred By Candidates

Right-To-Work Act And City Tax Issue In Forefront Nov. 4

Preparing for the November general election just a month from today, 12 state, district and county candidates have started to work in earnest on a campaign in which they can expect to be overshadowed by a pair of issues — the statewide vote on a "right-to-work" law and East Liverpool's decision to retain or reject a city income tax.

Columbiana County will fill five Courthouse posts, name three county judges, pick a state representative and have a voice in election of an 18th District congressman, a state senator from the 20th-22nd District and a judge for the 7th District Court of Appeals.

But while the candidates are campaigning, public interest will center on interest whipped up by opposing factions involved in the "right - to - work" and income tax issues.

Both questions got onto the ballot by initiative procedure — circulation of petitions for voters' signatures. The "right - to - work" issue was sponsored by a statewide organization called Ohioans for Right - to - Work, Inc. Organized labor generally opposes enactment of the law, which would ban the union shop.

The vote on the income tax was sponsored by East Liverpool Trades and Labor Council, which began circulation of petitions shortly after the new levy went into effect May 1.

In addition to voting on the tax itself, the city will act on two related issues that would require refund of all money collected under it and forbid Council from enacting another income tax without a vote of the people.

In the countywide voting, the electors will name a state representative, Common Pleas Court judge, two commissioners, an auditor and a court clerk.

The minor judiciary seats also are filled on a countywide basis, although the judges serve jurisdictions that each represent about a third of the county area. One commissioner will be named for a full four - year term and the other will be elected to an unexpired term ending Dec. 31, 1960.

Seeking the full term are Galen H. Greenisen of near Salem, the Republican incumbent, and Councilman Frank C. Wilson of Wellsville. Candidates for the unexpired term are Richard G. Brian of East Liverpool, Republican, who now holds the office, and R. Max Gard of Lisbon R. D. 4, an antique dealer and historian who won the Democratic nomination in May.

Brian was named a commissioner early in 1957 to succeed W. A. Southan of East Liverpool, who resigned to take a post in Gov. C. William O'Neill's administration.

The post of Common Pleas Court clerk also will be filled for an unexpired term which runs to Jan. 1, 1961.

The candidates are John W. (Jack) Peterson of East Palestine, the Republican incumbent, and Carl L. Stacey, 32, of Columbiana, the Democratic nominee. Peterson, who served 18 years as chief deputy in the office, was named court clerk early this year to succeed the late John W. Coleman of Glenmoor.

The two elected to the unexpired terms will take office as soon as results are certified officially by

A 35-year-old East End man and a Lisbon resident, formerly of East Liverpool, were killed late Friday afternoon when their car struck the rear of a passing tractor-trailer truck and plunged over a 50-foot cliff at Rock Camp along Route 30.

Albert K. Ramsey of Valley Ave. and William H. Creamer, 68, of 136 Pendleton Ave., Lisbon, died in the impact of the car's landing in the former railway bed at the bottom of the sheer embankment.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Mr. Ramsey was driving the 1952 sedan, headed south on Route 30. Officers said the car veered against the rear tandem wheels of a semi-trailer truck driven by Albert Menapace, 34, of New Philadelphia, headed north.

The car then went out of control, swerved across the roadway at the curve just north of the intersection with the Y. & O. Rd., and hit a utility pole, then spun over the edge of the embankment.

The mishap was timed at 5:40 p. m. Mr. Ramsey suffered a crushed skull, and Mr. Creamer received a fractured neck and multiple body fractures. Both were pronounced dead at City Hospital.

Officers said the car, owned by Eva Creamer, was battered and flattened in the crash. Mr. Creamer had moved to Lisbon three months ago.

U.S., Britain Press U.N. On Disarm Issue

Seek Top Priority In Assembly's Main Political Committee

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Britain and the United States pressed today to give the crucial disarmament question top priority in the U.N.'s main political committee.

The two Western powers have been working up a resolution which reportedly would throw the support of the 81-nation General Assembly behind the big three meeting in Geneva Oct. 31 on working out a nuclear test ban.

The political committee, which handles the Assembly's major problems, is slated to begin work Wednesday. Its tentative agenda has placed Korea, outer space and Algeria ahead of disarmament, but diplomats felt there would be little opposition to moving up the disarmament debate.

Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold has been pressing to have the arms talks here as soon as possible on the ground that the U.N. debate would give momentum to the Geneva parley.

He has proposed that the Geneva talks be placed under U.N. sponsorship.

The secretary general also suggested in a memorandum this week that any control agency agreed on at Geneva should be integrated with the U.N. He further recommended that negotiations on protecting nations from surprise attack be held within the U.N. framework.

Russia has proposed that the Geneva discussion be raised to the foreign minister level, but the United States has indicated it is not interested in doing so at this stage.

The purpose of the Geneva talks is to set up control machinery which East-West experts agreed in July would be adequate to back up any agreement to suspend nuclear tests.

Injured Youth 'Fair' After Peak Rescue

Weary Rescuers To Use Stretcher From Top Mount Olympus

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Weary rescuers reached 17-year-old Doug Chapman at the top of Mount Olympus just before dawn today and reported he appeared to be in fair condition. They said he had lacerations but no broken bones.

The Salt Lake County sheriff's office reported the boy had a swollen face from his long ordeal. His eyes were swollen shut, and he could not see to walk. It was decided to move him down the mountain side on a stretcher.

Officials said it would take several hours to take the boy down the moutnain because they would have to ease the stretcher over the sharp rocks and ragged brush on the side of the steep, 9,017-foot peak.

Thirty sheriff's deputies and volunteers spent a chilly and dangerous night trying to reach and retrieve the high school student and his companion, Leroy Franke, 16, from the craggy mountain that overlooks the Salt Lake Valley.

Kit Sallenbach, 16, the other member of the hiking party, struggled 2½ hours to get down the mountain and report young Chapman's plight. Young Franke stayed behind to offer what comfort he could.

Mrs. D. Marden Chapman, the youth's mother, said Sallenbach told her that her son fell about 20 feet while the trio were scrambling atop the mountain, located at the edge of suburban Holladay, Utah.

Sallenbach said Chapman's face and hands were bloody, but he told his companions: "Don't move me don't move me. My back is hurt."

"I hope he knows enough not to try and move and aggravate his injuries," Mrs. Chapman said.

Local Issues Keep 275,000 In UAW Idle

Settlement Waited To Resume Output Of 1959 Models

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry's Big Three, their national contracts with the United Auto Workers Union wrapped up, today awaited settlement of local disputes for a full scale resumption of 1959 model production.

Some 275,000 UAW members—most of them General Motors employes—remain idled by local disputes at GM, Ford and Chrysler.

GM, last of the Big Three to come to terms with the UAW, reported 250,000 idle at 126 plants across the country. GM signed its national agreement Thursday night but UAW President Walter Reuther said local unions have authorization to remain on strike until local issues are settled.

In previous auto industry strikes one to two weeks have been required to clear up local disputes.

Chrysler reported 22,400 workers idle in 16 plants despite a settlement reached Friday covering 11,000 skilled tradesmen.

Contracts covering skilled workers and salaried office employes had been hanging since Wednesday, when Reuther wrapped up a production worker agreement at Chrysler.

Ford reported production almost normal but said operations at a Chicago assembly plant remain at a standstill because of a local dispute. The Ford-UAW agreement was announced Sept. 17.

Negotiators continued efforts to reach a settlement for 25,000 members of the International Union of Electrical Workers on strike at six GM plants.

The IUE struck GM at the same time as the UAW. The union has members at GM plants in Warren, and Dayton, Ohio; Rochester, N. Y.; New Brunswick, N. J., and Chicago.

Jets May Fly Escort

Red MIGs Attack Nationalist Craft

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Nationalist Sabrejets may now fly close escort for airdrop missions to Quemoy to guard them from Communist jet fighters, a Defense Ministry spokesman said today.

Four Communist MIG17s attacked transports parachuting supplies to the besieged offshore island Friday, forcing one crippled C46 to land. The Nationalist Defense Ministry revealed today the MIGs also strafed Quemoy.

"This can be stopped," said Rear Adm. Liu Hoh-Tu, the Defense Ministry spokesman. "We are not going to sit there and wait for the transport planes to be shot up again."

U. S. - built F86 Sabrejets were flying high altitude cover for the low-flying transports, Liu said. When the MIGs suddenly swooped on the slow cargo planes from the nearby Red China mainland, it took the Sabrejets too long to get down and the MIGs had fled.

"You might say our airdrop planes were almost unescorted," Liu said. "Maybe we'll have to change our tactics to prevent low altitude sneak attacks like Friday's by having some of our planes fly at low altitude too."

The admiral emphasized that the main job was to protect the transports so they can deliver badly needed cargo to Quemoy. He said he was not hinting at Nationalist bombing of the MIG bases on the mainland in hopes of stopping the communist fighters at their source.

U.S. officers expect such attacks would provoke Communist raids on the Nationalist air bases on Formosa. Since the United States is pledged to defend Formosa, that would draw the heavy concentration of American military strength here into direct conflict with Red China.

Liu said the MIGs attacked a flight of C46s with machinegun fire immediately after they parachuted supplies to Quemoy and then strafed the island's main town of Kinmen City. He had no information whether the strafing inflicted casualties.

Passenger In Auto That Hit Pole Also Hurt In 2nd Mishap

An 18 - year - old girl and a 22-year-old man were hurt in separate accidents Friday afternoon and early this morning.

Mary Martha Howard, 818 St. Clair Ave., received a neck injury in a collision at 3 p. m. yesterday on Pennsylvania Ave. in which the two occupants of the other car were cited on four charges.

Police said the girl was a passenger in a car driven by Alvin Fred Howard, 20, of the same address, which was struck in the rear by a car operated by John M. Muhic, 21, of Smiths Ferry R. D. 1 and owned by Franklin L. Thorne, also 21, of 935 Dresden Ave.

Muhic was fined $50 and costs by Acting Municipal Judge Robert A. Kapp for driving without a license and an additional $10 and costs for failing to stop within the assured clear distance.

Thorne was fined $50 and costs for permitting an unlicensed driver to operate his car and $10 and costs for illegal registration.

City Tax Case Reset Oct. 16

Finlay Given Time To Obtain Attorney

A continuance until Oct. 16 was granted Larry Finlay, 709 Sophia St., when he appeared in Municipal Court this morning to answer a charge of failing to file an estimated city income tax declaration.

Acting Judge Robert A. Kapp granted Finlay's request for additional time to secure an attorney and entered a not guilty plea for the potter and grocery operator. Finlay was released on his own recognizance.

Kapp set the hearing for 10 a.m. but told Finlay he probably would not be on the bench when the case comes up for trial and a new time may be set. Judge George L. Brokaw is on vacation.

Finlay was charged with failing to file the estimated income tax declaration before the deadline July 15 by Frank Blakeley, supervisor of the tax office.

Finlay was served with a summons Thursday ordering him to appear in court today. When he appeared, he told the court he was not prepared to enter a plea and asked time to obtain counsel.

The affidavit is the first to be served under the city's income tax law.

Hawaii Sees Record Vote In Election

HONOLULU (AP) — A record 130,000 voters are expected to turn out today for the Hawaii primary election.

Politicians are watching for hints of which party is likely to represent Hawaii in Congress should the territory be admitted as the 50th state next year.

Observers also look for signs of whether the Democrats are likely to continue the domination of the territorial Legislature. They took over four years ago after more than half a century of unbroken Republican rule.

For the first time a third political party is on the ballot. This is the Commonwealth Party, which advocates commonwealth status for Hawaii.

This primary is the first since a reapportionment which split precincts and increased the number of representatives to the territorial Legislature by eighteen seats. The two houses of the Legislature have a total of 76 seats.

The most important race at stake is for delegate to Congress. Democrat John A. Burns, incumbent, is faced with intraparty competition from Honolulu attorney Kenneth E. Young. Burns is favored to defeat Young, as he did in the 1956 primary by 15,000 votes.

The Republican nominee for delegate is Farrant L. Turner, until recently territorial secretary.

Leaves New York For London

British Get Jump On U.S. In Commercial Jet Flight

NEW YORK (AP) — A British Comet IV airliner left Idlewild Airport for London today on the first commercial jet flight from the United States — beating an American airline in getting service started.

The roar of its four powerful engines partly muffled by noise suppressors, the British Overseas Airways Corp. plane took off at 7:01 a.m.

It carried 28 passengers, a crew of eight, and eight extra crew members. The nonstop trip was expected to take about 6½ hours. With the reported favorable winds, the Comet, named Delta Bravo, could break the record of 6 hours, 16 minutes for the Atlantic crossing. Piston - driven planes require about 11½ hours.

The flight was the first eastward hop for a commercial jet with fare-paying passengers. A sister ship, the Delta Charlie, took off from London at 8:55 a.m. bound for New York, to inaugurate officially commercial travel by jet across the Atlantic.

The Delta Charlie left London while an American Boeing 707 jet was waiting at the London Airport to undergo noise tests. Both jets already have passed the tests necessary for use of Idlewild.

The Port of New York Authority opened the field to jet passenger plane use Friday.

Pan American World Airways had widely advertised that the Boeing jet would start the world's first commercial jet flights across the Atlantic Oct. 27.

But the BOAC began arrangements for Delta Charlie's flight phone to round up persons who had booked for the first transatlantic jet flight. Many applications were filed years ago. About 40 made the trip.

The two planes are expected to greet each other in mid-Atlantic.

Among the passengers on the westbound flight was BOAC Chairman Sir Gerald D'Erlanger.

The plane is expected in New York in mid-afternoon after a stop at Gander, Nfld.

Hair Strands Link Man To Missing Girl Case

Atty. Richard P. Steward, Beaver County prosecutor, said he has verified that strands of hair found in the auto of Frank Senk, 26, of Ambridge are the same as those from the hair brush of Rebecca Ann Triska, 15, of Baden, missing since Sept. 19.

Tests on the hair specimens were made by the Allegheny County Crime Laboratory.

Steward said Senk will be held until further findings of facts change the picture or the court orders his release.

Miss Triska was reported last seen in a car similar to Senk's following a dance in Ambridge Sept. 19.

Senk was arrested about a week ago.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Two busloads of Taipei's oldest residents, all claiming to be at least 100, headed a formal procession that opened 3,200-foot-long bridge over the Tansui River today. They were chosen as a good omen for the long life of the bridge.

Richest Of New York's Finest

Policeman Inherits Million But 'Walks Beat' As Usual

NEW YORK (AP)—What happens when a $7,000-a-year policeman suddenly becomes a millionaire?

He reports for work as usual and asks to be let alone.

At least that's what patrolman John B. Gaul did.

Gaul became the richest of New York's finest Friday. He fell heir to the lion's share of a 2½-million dollar fortune, bequeathed him by an uncle.

The 39-year-old father of two reported as usual for his 4 p. m. to midnight shift as a station house clerk. Not so usual was the battery of reporters and photographers awaiting him.

Gaul, cited five times for meritorious service in the line of duty, retreated before the demands of the press. He holed up in his captain's office.

The captain, Sanford Garelik, issued a statement. "Patrolman Gaul," he said, "is a dignified individual with an excellent record."

Then Gaul emerged and owned up to his newly acquired status as a millionaire. He clarified the past, but was reticent about the future.

Gaul, who joined the force in 1950, had advanced to the rank of second grade detective by early this year. His uncle, Dr. Julian A. Gaul of Roxbury, N. Y., died Jan. 30. He named his nephew chief beneficiary in the will. Gaul resigned from the department Feb. 4 to administer the estate.

The will, however, was contested by three other relatives. Gaul rejoined the force June 12 as a patrolman.

Gaul said Friday a settlement appeared to have been reached and he expected to have the bulk of the estate's money shortly.

Although proud of his record as a policeman, Gaul said, "Don't all policemen live for the day that their 20 years are up so they can retire?"

Lady Police Chief Says 'Hogwash' To Job

AURORA, Ill. (AP) — Police Chief No. 12 hung up her badge without so much as batting out a traffic ticket. Mayor Paul Egan pounded out a proclamation, and Police Chief No. 11 summed it all up as "hogwash."

That's the status today of Egan's Keystone Cops hassle with this city's police force and other officials. Most of the city's 57,000 residents have to stop and think to remember that it all began almost a week ago as a disagreement over bingo. Since then the issues have ranged far and wide.

Jets May Fly Escort

Red MIGs Attack Nationalist Craft

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Nationalist Sabrejets may now fly close escort for airdrop missions to Quemoy to guard them from Communist jet fighters, a Defense Ministry spokesman said today.

Four Communist MIG17s attacked transports parachuting supplies to the besieged offshore island Friday, forcing one crippled C46 to land. The Nationalist Defense Ministry revealed today the MIGs also strafed Quemoy.

"This can be stopped," said Rear Adm. Liu Hoh-Tu, the Defense Ministry spokesman. "We are not going to sit there and wait for the transport planes to be shot up again."

U. S. - built F86 Sabrejets were flying high altitude cover for the low-flying transports, Liu said. When the MIGs suddenly swooped on the slow cargo planes from the nearby Red China mainland, it took the Sabrejets too long to get down and the MIGs had fled.

"You might say our airdrop planes were almost unescorted," Liu said. "Maybe we'll have to change our tactics to prevent low altitude sneak attacks like Friday's by having some of our planes fly at low altitude too."

The admiral emphasized that the main job was to protect the transports so they can deliver badly needed cargo to Quemoy. He said he was not hinting at Nationalist bombing of the MIG bases on the mainland in hopes of stopping the communist fighters at their source.

U.S. officers expect such attacks would provoke Communist raids on the Nationalist air bases on Formosa. Since the United States is pledged to defend Formosa, that would draw the heavy concentration of American military strength here into direct conflict with Red China.

Liu said the MIGs attacked a flight of C46s with machinegun fire immediately after they parachuted supplies to Quemoy and then strafed the island's main town of Kinmen City. He had no information whether the strafing inflicted casualties.

Hawaii Sees Record Vote In Election

HONOLULU (AP) — A record 130,000 voters are expected to turn out today for the Hawaii primary election.

Politicians are watching for hints of which party is likely to represent Hawaii in Congress should the territory be admitted as the 50th state next year.

Observers also look for signs of whether the Democrats are likely to continue the domination of the territorial Legislature. They took over four years ago after more than half a century of unbroken Republican rule.

For the first time a third political party is on the ballot. This is the Commonwealth Party, which advocates commonwealth status for Hawaii.

This primary is the first since a reapportionment which split precincts and increased the number of representatives to the territorial Legislature by eighteen seats. The two houses of the Legislature have a total of 76 seats.

The most important race at stake is for delegate to Congress. Democrat John A. Burns, incumbent, is faced with intraparty competition from Honolulu attorney Kenneth E. Young. Burns is favored to defeat Young, as he did in the 1956 primary by 15,000 votes.

The Republican nominee for delegate is Farrant L. Turner, until recently territorial secretary.

City Tax Case Reset Oct. 16

Finlay Given Time To Obtain Attorney

A continuance until Oct. 16 was granted Larry Finlay, 709 Sophia St., when he appeared in Municipal Court this morning to answer a charge of failing to file an estimated city income tax declaration.

Acting Judge Robert A. Kapp granted Finlay's request for additional time to secure an attorney and entered a not guilty plea for the potter and grocery operator. Finlay was released on his own recognizance.

Kapp set the hearing for 10 a.m. but told Finlay he probably would not be on the bench when the case comes up for trial and a new time may be set. Judge George L. Brokaw is on vacation.

Finlay was charged with failing to file the estimated income tax declaration before the deadline July 15 by Frank Blakeley, supervisor of the tax office.

Finlay was served with a summons Thursday ordering him to appear in court today. When he appeared, he told the court he was not prepared to enter a plea and asked time to obtain counsel.

The affidavit is the first to be served under the city's income tax law.

Hair Strands Link Man To Missing Girl Case

Atty. Richard P. Steward, Beaver County prosecutor, said he has verified that strands of hair found in the auto of Frank Senk, 26, of Ambridge are the same as those from the hair brush of Rebecca Ann Triska, 15, of Baden, missing since Sept. 19.

Tests on the hair specimens were made by the Allegheny County Crime Laboratory.

Steward said Senk will be held until further findings of facts change the picture or the court orders his release.

Miss Triska was reported last seen in a car similar to Senk's following a dance in Ambridge Sept. 19.

Senk was arrested about a week ago.

Richest Of New York's Finest

Policeman Inherits Million But 'Walks Beat' As Usual

NEW YORK (AP)—What happens when a $7,000-a-year policeman suddenly becomes a millionaire?

He reports for work as usual and asks to be let alone.

At least that's what patrolman John B. Gaul did.

Gaul became the richest of New York's finest Friday. He fell heir to the lion's share of a 2½-million dollar fortune, bequeathed him by an uncle.

The 39-year-old father of two reported as usual for his 4 p. m. to midnight shift as a station house clerk. Not so usual was the battery of reporters and photographers awaiting him.

Gaul, cited five times for meritorious service in the line of duty, retreated before the demands of the press. He holed up in his captain's office.

The captain, Sanford Garelik, issued a statement. "Patrolman Gaul," he said, "is a dignified individual with an excellent record."

Then Gaul emerged and owned up to his newly acquired status as a millionaire. He clarified the past, but was reticent about the future.

Gaul, who joined the force in 1950, had advanced to the rank of second grade detective by early this year. His uncle, Dr. Julian A. Gaul of Roxbury, N. Y., died Jan. 30. He named his nephew chief beneficiary in the will. Gaul resigned from the department Feb. 4 to administer the estate.

The will, however, was contested by three other relatives. Gaul rejoined the force June 12 as a patrolman.

Gaul said Friday a settlement appeared to have been reached and he expected to have the bulk of the estate's money shortly.

Although proud of his record as a policeman, Gaul said, "Don't all policemen live for the day that their 20 years are up so they can retire?"

Lady Police Chief Says 'Hogwash' To Job

AURORA, Ill. (AP) — Police Chief No. 12 hung up her badge without so much as batting out a traffic ticket. Mayor Paul Egan pounded out a proclamation, and Police Chief No. 11 summed it all up as "hogwash."

That's the status today of Egan's Keystone Cops hassle with this city's police force and other officials. Most of the city's 57,000 residents have to stop and think to remember that it all began almost a week ago as a disagreement over bingo. Since then the issues have ranged far and wide.

Leaves New York For London

British Get Jump On U.S. In Commercial Jet Flight

NEW YORK (AP) — A British Comet IV airliner left Idlewild Airport for London today on the first commercial jet flight from the United States — beating an American airline in getting service started.

The roar of its four powerful engines partly muffled by noise suppressors, the British Overseas Airways Corp. plane took off at 7:01 a.m.

It carried 28 passengers, a crew of eight, and eight extra crew members. The nonstop trip was expected to take about 6½ hours. With the reported favorable winds, the Comet, named Delta Bravo, could break the record of 6 hours, 16 minutes for the Atlantic crossing. Piston - driven planes require about 11½ hours.

The flight was the first eastward hop for a commercial jet with fare-paying passengers. A sister ship, the Delta Charlie, took off from London at 8:55 a.m. bound for New York, to inaugurate officially commercial travel by jet across the Atlantic.

The Delta Charlie left London while an American Boeing 707 jet was waiting at the London Airport to undergo noise tests. Both jets already have passed the tests necessary for use of Idlewild.

The Port of New York Authority opened the field to jet passenger plane use Friday.

Pan American World Airways had widely advertised that the Boeing jet would start the world's first commercial jet flights across the Atlantic Oct. 27.

But the BOAC began arrangements for Delta Charlie's flight phone to round up persons who had booked for the first transatlantic jet flight. Many applications were filed years ago. About 40 made the trip.

The two planes are expected to greet each other in mid-Atlantic.

Among the passengers on the westbound flight was BOAC Chairman Sir Gerald D'Erlanger.

The plane is expected in New York in mid-afternoon after a stop at Gander, Nfld.

Truman Gives Some Advice To Democrats

Warns Party About Overconfidence In Election Campaign

By CLETUS H. JONES

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Despite his belief that "a Democratic tide is running strong across the country" former President Harry S. Truman has warned Democrats about becoming overconfident in the election campaign.

He told a political rally attended by 1,500 here Friday night:

"Don't get Dewey-itis because that's the worst disease in the world.

"The bandwagon will go by and you'll wake up in the morning and find you've been defeated."

His reference was to Thomas E. Dewey, whom Truman upset in the 1948 presidential election.

Speaking on behalf of Stephen M. Young, Ohio Democratic candidate for U.S. senator, Truman said the Eisenhower-Nixon administration "has bungled our foreign policy so badly that the unity of the free nations is gravely weakened.

"We've lost nearly every friend we've had," Truman added.

He called the Republicans a "party of recession" at a news conference prior to his speech. In his talk, Truman said the GOP had accomplished recession and inflation at the same time.

Speaking in a hoarse voice, the 74-year-old Truman called for the election of all Democrats. He said:

"We need all these Democarts because the Republican administration has made the nicest mess of things that could possibly happen.

"I turned everything over to them as a going concern, but they spent the first four years trying to tear it up and the next four trying to tear up what is left."

Truman said the country is "perfectly safe and sound if you put someone in there that knows how to run it."

He returned to Cleveland after his speech and will fly to Columbus for a speech at a $10-a-plate dinner there tonight.

Specifically, Truman endorsed Young, gubernatorial candidate Michael V. DiSalle, and Jack Arnold of Akron, candidate for the 14th district congressional seat.

Pope Suffers Return Attack Of Hiccups

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP)—Pope Pius XII today suffered a slight return attack of hiccups, the affliction that weakened him dangerously four years ago.

The hiccups were clearly noted during an audience at the pontiff's summer residence here when he addressed delegates to Italy's National Congress of Plastic Surgeons. During the address, in which the pontiff said plastic surgery for moral purposes is permissible, the Pope repeatedly hiccuped.

Later, close associates of the 82-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church said the Pope had been advised to cut short his address to the plastic surgeons. He did so.

Voting was made compulsory in Puerto Rico in 1917.

Bringing Up A Family

Religious Freedom Should Be Stressed

A unique feature of our democracy is that we have great religious freedom vouchsafed to us in our Constitution. While there are three leading religions—Catholic, Jewish and Protestant—and many different denominations and sects, we all live together agreeably. I suppose many of us have a secret wish there were no other religious faith or sect than our own in our community, even in our state or nation. But wouldn't such a condition deprive us of a great deal of growth in appreciation of others and self - discipline at proving this appreciation?

By Garry Meyers

IT IS NOT enough that our Constitution guarantees religious freedom in our nation.

We need also to make sure that each of us guarantees to all others the freedom to feel worthy, self-respecting, proud of their religious convictions and ways.

I believe we parents should try to win over our children to our own religious convictions.

We do it best by proving that these beliefs help make us better people. I also think we should bring up our children to have very great appreciation for the religious beliefs of others.

My bulletins, "The Young Child And His Religion" and "Graces And Prayers For Young Children," may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

IN SOME local areas, one religious faith or denomination may so strongly prevail that others are but small minorities.

How does it feel to be one of only a few families of Jews or Catholics or Lutherans or Methodists or any other faith or denomination? This depends on several things: how appreciative the majority groups are of the minority ones, how faithful the smaller group is to its beliefs and how well all strive to be good neighbors.

Parents who belong to a minority group do the most for their children, as a rule, when, by precept and example, they never act or feel ashamed of their faith or sect but show they are proud of it.

When we parents belong to a majority faith or sect in a community, we have an opportunity to prove ourselves gracious and appreciative neighbors to those of the minority group.

Or, instead of this, we can show ourselves to be bigots and bullies. We always lose spiritually when we act or speak unkindly toward others whose religious beliefs differ from ours.

Police Hunt Unidentified Man

Pilot Lands Small Plane On New York City Street

NEW YORK (AP)—An unidentified pilot made a perfect landing early today on an upper Manhattan street, then fled from the single-engine, two-seater craft.

Police said they were seeking for questioning a man who landed a small plane in a city street two years ago.

The plane, with a wingspread of about 40 feet, set down on heavily traveled, 60-foot wide, Amsterdam Avenue at 187th Street.

A motorist, John Johnson, 34, told police:

"I saw something coming down. I didn't know what to imagine. I slammed on my brakes and a plane skidded over the top of my car and made a perfect landing ahead of me.

"I saw a man get out and run toward St. Nicholas Avenue on 187th Street."

Johnson described the pilot as blond, husky, and about six feet tall.

The plane, a red and white Cessna, turned out to belong to Donald Hulse of Paramus, N. J., who operates an aeronautics school at Teterboro, N. J., Airport. At Teterboro, officials said, a plane took off at 12:20 a.m. from the field's west taxiway without navigation lights, clearance or radio contact with the control tower.

On the block in which the plane landed are apartment buildings varying in size from five to 10 stories.

Police removed the plane's wings, then loaded them and the fuselage aboard trucks for removal to a station house.

Hulse said the plane is one of 10 of the same type his school uses.

Authorities said they wanted to question Thomas Fitzpatrick, now 28, who on Sept. 30, 1956, "borrowed" a small plane from Hulse's school at Teterboro and landed it safely on St. Nicholas Avenue at 191st Street, Manhattan.

Fitzpatrick, blond and husky, left the plane and walked into a nearby tavern, where he was picked up.

Fitzpatrick had been taking lessons at Hulse's school. Hulse refused to press a grand larceny charge, and Fitzpatrick got off with a $100 fine after being found guilty of landing without a permit, reckless operation of a plane, and flying without a medical certificate.

Police said it was understood that Fitzpatrick currently was residing in Emerson, N. J.

D., former prosecuting attorney; Harold McCall, former Rogers mayor, and Earl Spalding of East Palestine and Wade A. Loop of Salem, both former justices of the peace.

The three judges will be elected to four-year terms that pay $3,631 yearly. The third incumbent is Judge Samuel J. Crawford of Glastown, whose petition for a ballot place was rejected on the grounds a candidate defeated in a primary cannot run again in the general election the same year. Judge Crawford ran unsuccessfully for the Democratic nomination for county commissioner in May.

Truman Gives Some Advice To Democrats

Warns Party About Overconfidence In Election Campaign

By CLETUS H. JONES

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Despite his belief that "a Democratic tide is running strong across the country" former President Harry S. Truman has warned Democrats about becoming overconfident in the election campaign.

He told a political rally attended by 1,500 here Friday night:

"Don't get Dewey-itis because that's the worst disease in the world.

"The bandwagon will go by and you'll wake up in the morning and find you've been defeated."

His reference was to Thomas E. Dewey, whom Truman upset in the 1948 presidential election.

Speaking on behalf of Stephen M. Young, Ohio Democratic candidate for U.S. senator, Truman said the Eisenhower-Nixon administration "has bungled our foreign policy so badly that the unity of the free nations is gravely weakened.

"We've lost nearly every friend we've had," Truman added.

He called the Republicans a "party of recession" at a news conference prior to his speech. In his talk, Truman said the GOP had accomplished recession and inflation at the same time.

Speaking in a hoarse voice, the 74-year-old Truman called for the election of all Democrats. He said:

"We need all these Democarts because the Republican administration has made the nicest mess of things that could possibly happen.

"I turned everything over to them as a going concern, but they spent the first four years trying to tear it up and the next four trying to tear up what is left."

Truman said the country is "perfectly safe and sound if you put someone in there that knows how to run it."

He returned to Cleveland after his speech and will fly to Columbus for a speech at a $10-a-plate dinner there tonight.

Specifically, Truman endorsed Young, gubernatorial candidate Michael V. DiSalle, and Jack Arnold of Akron, candidate for the 14th district congressional seat.

Pope Suffers Return Attack Of Hiccups

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP)—Pope Pius XII today suffered a slight return attack of hiccups, the affliction that weakened him dangerously four years ago.

The hiccups were clearly noted during an audience at the pontiff's summer residence here when he addressed delegates to Italy's National Congress of Plastic Surgeons. During the address, in which the pontiff said plastic surgery for moral purposes is permissible, the Pope repeatedly hiccuped.

Later, close associates of the 82-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church said the Pope had been advised to cut short his address to the plastic surgeons. He did so.

Voting was made compulsory in Puerto Rico in 1917.

City Post Member Honored

Nick Turkaly Named National VFW Aide

Recognition for his long interest in promoting youth activities has come to Nicholas (Nick) Turkaly, member of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 66, who has now been appointed to the VFW's national youth activities committee.

Notice of his appointment by John W. Mahan, national commander, was forwarded to the Crucible Steel Co. worker by Julian Dickenson, adjutant general of the national headquarters at Kansas City, Mo.

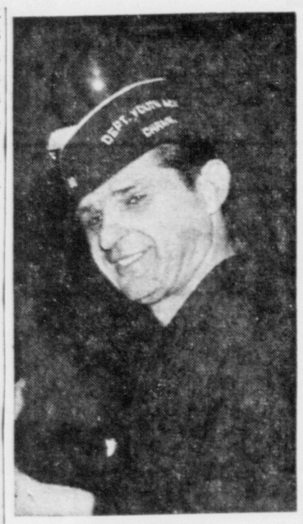
Turkaly, who is married and has a daughter, has been the post's and the 6th District youth activities director for four years and is serving his second year as Ohio department director.

He was the first in Ohio to receive a citation at the recent national convention in New York City from John Mathieson of Kansas City, national youth activities director.

A Navy veteran of World War II, he accompanied Ohio's VFW marbles tournament winner, a Dover boy, to Tucson, Ariz., last year for the finals.

Turkaly organizes table tennis, bowling and marbles games for local young people, with the cooperation of the city schools and the YMCA. He takes winners to the district contests and on to the state and national contests.

Recent activities promoted were baseball, marbles and the Huckleberry Finn project—taking youngsters fishing and swimming — for the 411 posts in Ohio.



NICK TURKALY
Long Services Recognized.

Turkaly has been a trustee of the city post for three years and was on the drill squad last year but gave this up to devote more time to youth work.

Lee McAlister of Lake Worth, Fla., is chairman of the national VFW committee.

Turkaly resides at 1890 Anderson Blvd.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Religious Freedom Should Be Stressed

A unique feature of our democracy is that we have great religious freedom vouchsafed to us in our Constitution. While there are three leading religions—Catholic, Jewish and Protestant—and many different denominations and sects, we all live together agreeably. I suppose many of us have a secret wish there were no other religious faith or sect than our own in our community, even in our state or nation. But wouldn't such a condition deprive us of a great deal of growth in appreciation of others and self - discipline at proving this appreciation?

By Garry Meyers

IN SOME local areas, one religious faith or denomination may so strongly prevail that others are but small minorities.

How does it feel to be one of only a few families of Jews or Catholics or Lutherans or Methodists or any other faith or denomination? This depends on several things: how appreciative the majority groups are of the minority ones, how faithful the smaller group is to its beliefs and how well all strive to be good neighbors.

Parents who belong to a minority group do the most for their children, as a rule, when, by precept and example, they never act or feel ashamed of their faith or sect but show they are proud of it.

When we parents belong to a majority faith or sect in a community, we have an opportunity to prove ourselves gracious and appreciative neighbors to those of the minority group.

Or, instead of this, we can show ourselves to be bigots and bullies. We always lose spiritually when we act or speak unkindly toward others whose religious beliefs differ from ours.

—:—

IT IS NOT enough that our Constitution guarantees religious freedom in our nation.

We need also to make sure that each of us guarantees to all others the freedom to feel worthy, self-respecting, proud of their religious convictions and ways.

I believe we parents should try to win over our children to our own religious convictions.

We do it best by proving that these beliefs help make us better people. I also think we should bring up our children to have very great appreciation for the religious beliefs of others.

My bulletins, "The Young Child And His Religion" and "Graces And Prayers For Young Children," may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Police Hunt Unidentified Man

Pilot Lands Small Plane On New York City Street

NEW YORK (AP)—An unidentified pilot made a perfect landing early today on an upper Manhattan street, then fled from the single-engine, two-seater craft.

Police said they were seeking for questioning a man who landed a small plane in a city street two years ago.

The plane, with a wingspread of about 40 feet, set down on heavily traveled, 60-foot wide, Amsterdam Avenue at 187th Street.

A motorist, John Johnson, 34, told police:

"I saw something coming down. I didn't know what to imagine. I slammed on my brakes and a plane skidded over the top of my car and made a perfect landing ahead of me.

"I saw a man get out and run toward St. Nicholas Avenue on 187th Street."

Johnson described the pilot as blond, husky, and about six feet tall.

The plane, a red and white Cessna, turned out to belong to Donald Hulse of Paramus, N. J., who operates an aeronautics school at Teterboro, N. J., Airport. At Teterboro, officials said, a plane took off at 12:20 a.m. from the field's west taxiway without navigation lights, clearance or radio contact with the control tower.

On the block in which the plane landed are apartment buildings varying in size from five to 10 stories.

Police removed the plane's wings, then loaded them and the fuselage aboard trucks for removal to a station house.

Hulse said the plane is one of 10 of the same type his school uses.

Authorities said they wanted to question Thomas Fitzpatrick, now 28, who on Sept. 30, 1956, "borrowed" a small plane from Hulse's school at Teterboro and landed it safely on St. Nicholas Avenue at 191st Street, Manhattan.

Fitzpatrick, blond and husky, left the plane and walked into a nearby tavern, where he was picked up.

Fitzpatrick had been taking lessons at Hulse's school. Hulse refused to press a grand larceny charge, and Fitzpatrick got off with a $100 fine after being found guilty of landing without a permit, reckless operation of a plane, and flying without a medical certificate.

Police said it was understood that Fitzpatrick currently was residing in Emerson, N. J.

Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp of Salem is bidding for a fourth term on the non - partisan judicial ballot, opposed by Atty. Robert S. Atty. Hunston, former Salem city solicitor, made an unsuccessful bid for a congressional sea two years ago. Blake operates a farm near Martins Ferry.

In the five - county 18th Congressional District, Rep. Wayne L Hays of Flushing, Democrat, is bidding for his sixth term, opposed by Francis Wallace of Bellaire, the GOP nominee. Seeking a seat on the bench of the 7th District Court of Appeals are Probate Judge Robert B. Ford of Geauga County and Atty. John L. Donahue of Youngstown.

The winner will replace Judge John C. Nichols of St. Clairsville, who was defeated in the primaries in a bid for a fifth term. The judicial district is comprised of 13 Eastern Ohio counties. Judge Ford was nominated on the Republican ticket and Donahue was chosen on the Democratic slate. In the general election, their names will appear on a non-partisan ballot.

D., former prosecuting attorney; Harold McCall, former Rogers mayor, and Earl Spalding of East Palestine and Wade A. Loop of Salem, both former justices of the peace.

The three judges will be elected to four-year terms that pay $3,631 yearly. The third incumbent is Judge Samuel J. DeGaulle Eyes Reaction To Algeria Plan

AJACCIO, Corsica (AP) — Premier de Gaulle returns home today to test France's reaction to his dramatic offer of massive aid to Algeria and amnesty for rebels who lay down their arms. Algerians—French and North Africans —had shown little enthusiasm.

There was some consternation among right wing French Colonial leaders at De Gaulle's policy declaration and the outline of a five-year plan for Algeria in Constantine Friday.

The plan calls for vast industrial and housing construction and better opportunities for Algerian Moslems, but leaves virtually all political questions unanswered. De Gaulle never mentioned integration or the phrase "Algeria is French."

After hours of consultation the revolutionary May 13 Committee, whose uprising helped return De Gaulle to power last June, said through a spokesman the program is "excellent, going beyond our expectations.' Informed sources said, however, that the Europeans have no other course but to back De Gaulle.

Initial comment among the North Africans who make up the bulk of Algeria's 10 million people was reserved.

A total of 3,013 meals were served for a total cost of $912.87, making the average daily expense per prisoner 99 cents.

The sheriff said 302 papers were served and 5,048 radio transmissions were handled, along with 1,306 phone calls at the jail. The sheriff's office in the Courthouse accepted 37 sets of fox feet for bounty during the month.

Fees totaling $363.22 were collected by the sheriff's department.

The Fund Deserves Your Support

The Community Fund appeal is being made again, with the campaign goal $83,173.

For reasons difficult to understand, the fund has had rough going here in the past, with the goal achieved but once.

Here's where the dollars go—Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Recreational Council, YMCA, Salvation Army and USO. These organizations speak for themselves. All can proudly take their place in the community. All can point to a record of outstanding service over the years. And were they not with us, it would be tragic indeed.

Like your home or like your business, it takes money to operate them properly and to provide the maximum services which are within their scope. They must depend on the residents of East Liverpool, Wellsville, Chester and Newell to provide a good part of this money.

The burden would be relatively light if each person does his or her part. This is one of those cases where you can't sit back and "let George do it." The responsibility is yours as well as George's. So when the appeal reaches you, don't turn your back. Accept it and dig as deeply into your pocket as circumstances will allow.

The dividends will be many. For a few dollars, you get healthier bodies, sounder minds and the development of youth in a spiritual sense.

You provide those who have strayed a chance to return to a normal, happy existance.

You make things more cheerful for those of your friends in the armed services.

And last, but by no means least, you experience the self-satisfaction that goes with being part of a deserving enterprise.

Each time the fund fails to reach its goal, it's a reflection on the community as a whole. Let's put this year's drive over the top and keep the record spotless for 1958.

The Gimo Knows His Business

It is easily possible to have an impression that the U.S. State Department is unusually sensitive to Chiang Kai-shek; that he is in a position to dictate U.S. policy.

The impression is correct. The State Department is unusually sensitive to Chiang, who has vastly more influence than might be indicated by his seemingly hopeless position on the island of Formosa.

As leader of the only resistance to the Chinese Communist regime of China proper, Chiang is an important symbol — an Asiatic man of destiny who thoroughly knows his business.

His business is to play off allies and opponents against one another to his best possible advantage. This has been his career. It has been extraordinarily successful. At the age of 70, Chiang still works hard at it. He has been nicknamed "the gimo," which is short for "the generalissimo." He commands respect in many parts of the world, financial resources wherever Chinese want to see the Communist regime of mainland China destroyed and the fear of his opponents.

His most masterful accomplishment would be to embroil the Communists and the United States, or perhaps the United Nations, in war over Quemoy, Matsu and the offshore islands, in the hope of restoring his power in mainland China after Communist China had been defeated.

This is what President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles are up against in their attempt to develop a policy. This is why they must be sensitive to Chiang as well as to what they know about his realistic attitude. He is interested first, last and always in his own interests — an attitude that Americans always find shocking.

When it served Chiang to be an ally of the Communists, he was. That was when he was a young revolutionist learning the military trade as a communist cub. He had to be bulldozed into fighting Japan, because he did not think it was in his interest. When it finally was, he fought Japan.

It is in his interest now to get the United States and the People's Republic of China into war. There is nothing wrong about this from his point of view. It is not evil, just realistic.

A Job Well Done

It's good to see Herbert Combs being recognized for the job he has done as supervisor of the East Liverpool Ground Observer Corps.

Mr. Combs is one of two plane spotters from the 6,000 volunteer five-state filter center area to be selected to witness an Air Force "firepower" demonstration in Florida Wednesday.

For more than six years he has devoted himself with energetic enthusiasm and patriotic zeal to the task of developing the local post. In addition to supervising the training of some 1,400 local observers, the East Liverpool man has been instrumental in forming the GOC Booster Club.

A lot of work and long hours have been volunteered by Mr. Combs and many other GOC staffers in this district and they still are being called upon for practice alerts and other activities even though the skywatching organization now is in the ready reserve classification.

Not everyone in the GOC can fly to Florida to witness the attack power of this nation's air service. It's an honor for Mr. Combs and for the local post.

He can make the trip secure in the knowledge that not only the Air Force appreciates his contribution to a democracy which must ever be on the alert. Many other people do, to.

Martha Taft

Even Ohioans who never actually knew Martha Taft felt they would have liked to know her because of her reputation for living always on the bright side. Even after illness put her into a wheelchair, she continued to be one of the happiest and wittiest of women. In her presence, even the seriousness of her famed husband seemed to become less palpable.

Mrs. Taft has followed her beloved Bob in death. There was a difference of only three months in their ages; both were born in 1889. She would have been 69 next December.

Bob and Martha Taft were two of Ohio's distinguished public personalities of the 20th century. It is difficult to realize that their era has ended; that the charming lady who stood by the side of Robert A. Taft has joined him in death.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Hollywood and TV know how to get around a scandal that could hurt a big star. Their skill was never better shown than in the first autumn show of a top youthful singer of tender love songs recently involved in the widely headlined bust-up of his own home through associations with another woman.

Love eternal and the "till death doth part" theme got a complete scratch and the pitch was for autumn leaves, James Whitcomb Riley, the "frost on the pumpkin and the fodder in the shock."

For a few minutes we thought it an attempt to switch the whole scandal from the show world to the Indiana farm region, possibly conveying idea that principals in the recent broken home event were "The Raggedy Man" and Riley's hired girl "Lizabuth Ann."

INSTEAD OF THE USUAL "boy-loves-girl" and "cottage just for two" touch, the show opened up with a Hoosier note, saturated with old-fashioned home flavor and we got all set for Riley's lines:

"Then your apples all is gathered and the ones a feller keeps
Is pured around the cellar floor in red and yeller heaps,
And your cider making's over and your wimmern folks is through
With their mince and apple butter," etc.

IT DIDN'T GET that far, however, as two comedians, borrowed for the occasion, broke through center on a power play and went all out for laughs, having nothing whatever to do with pumpkins, "wimmern" folks or summer matrimonial troubles. St. Bernard dogs and Santa Claus got a mention.

The flame of love that nothing can extinguish, and the devotion that can never flip were kept in deep freeze, or limited to a song about moonlight, with personalities unidentified.

Home was mentioned only once and it was limited to a welcome "home" to TV fans. Kisses, love and the little cottage for two seemed to have been kept out by armed guards. It was a lesson in tact.

We thought James Whitcomb Riley got the decision over Tin Pan Alley fairly.

This is a slow motion discovery. Prohibition drove drinking into the home and made it a family pastime. It ushered in the fireside bar, the kiddies cocktail party and the rumpus room in every home.

It is now too late to do anything about it, license or no license.

In France's recent showdown election, almost everybody voted, for a change. In this country's forthcoming showdown election, everybody should vote too, for a change.

That's all they can count after the polls are closed — votes.

Adams' Labor Stand Recalled

By Victor Riesel

The man who had a rug pulled out from under him was busy taking pictures of some mighty famous walls last Tuesday.

Victor Riesel

While Sherman Adams was packing even his closest staff members knew not where the boss was heading.

The word was that he had turned down Bernard Goldfine's offers and importuning, although the industrialist's empire is doing right well.

Of Mr. Goldfine's five textile plants, for example, all are paying their 1,200 men and woman well. One plant is on a three-shift basis. The mills are spread from Massachusetts to Maine and, along with the branch offices and his real estate ventures, Goldfine could use Mr. Adams' organizing and administrative genius.

There were reports, too, that lumber and pulp producers had talked to the austere man to induce him to return to the industry he left some years ago when he gave up his promotion and public relations job in New York to battle for public office.

WHATEVER IT IS Sherman Adams does, he must do it swiftly. Bluntly, he is broke. But what this white-maned man of steel nerves wants to do even more quickly is to drift quietly out of the headlines. And for the quiet man, it would have been a quiet week if he hadn't been whipsawed by labor circles.

For months now, labor chiefs have been belting Adams with heavy speeches and even heavier type in their headline-making statements. Literally hundreds of thousands of leaflets and pamphlets snowflaked some 10 major union convention floors—blasting Adams. The labor people chanted—quit.

Not more than a week after Adams did his own version of the Duke of Windsor before the TV cameras, the "AFL-CIO News" suddenly found him not so bad a chap after all. The official voice of millions of unionists charged that Adams had really been ousted by the conservative wing of the Republican party because he had been friendly to labor in the past.

It seems to me to be the only possible interpretation of the paper's Sept. 22 editorial. It put Adams in a GOP group "that has displayed an understanding of labor's role."

As much as anything else in the Adams saga, this irritated those close to the former assistant to the president these past few days. During previous attacks on Adams, these associates had pointed out to at least one inquirer, that Adams was quite a labor expert and had worked closely with some union chiefs for many years.

WHEN HE WAS in the New Hampshire House of Representatives, Adams was chairman of the state labor committee. Textile Workers Union officials had easy access to him—as they did when he was governor.

When he got to the House of Representatives in Washington, Adams readily took a seat on the Labor Committee. Union chiefs found him easier to deal with than many of the others.

Then came the moment in 1956 when Adams, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and Harold Stassen made up the Eisenhower combined-chiefs-to-staff. Together they wooed the labor movement.

It was Adams who made the final decision which moved the late Martin Durkin from the presidency of the AFL Plumbers Union to the President's cabinet as U.S. Secretary of Labor—the first union chief to hold this office.

Only once before had this post been offered to a labor leader. That was Calvin Coolidge's bid, via Herbert Hoover (then secretary of commerce), to an upcoming fellow named John L. Lewis.

It was Adams who approved Durkin's successor, Jim Mitchell, who certainly has given labor a square deal. But Adams turned on the ice water when the union people decided to attack President Eisenhower personally.

The labor chiefs "forgot" his old record until after he resigned. Then they remembered.

Political Approaches

By Raymond Moley

An editorial has appeared in at least one of a very influential chain of newspapers which is so likely to mislead businessmen and others that it deserves a reply. It speaks of certain large corporations which have recently recommended that their employes participate in politics. It draws an analogy between using stockholders' money for this and the use of dues money by unions for their activity. It speaks of "making a right out of two wrongs."

Not only does this editorial misinterpret, perhaps through ignorance, what the corporations have done recently, but the analogy it seeks to draw between current union activity and that of the businessmen in question is not a true one.

In the first place, as far as I know of what corporations have done — and my information on this is quite ample — they have not put their companies into political activity.

THEY HAVE SAID, in public statements and in communications to their employes, that it is the duty and responsibility of employes to participate in political affairs on their own. This is good advice for every man and woman in America.

One of the shames of the times is the refusal of Americans to do much about choosing their public officials. Indeed, millions do not trouble even to vote.

No corporation that I have heard of has actually used corporation funds directly in behalf of a political candidate or party. They obey the old law of 1907 on that point.

The Taft-Hartley Act, which puts the same prohibition on labor unions, however, is openly flouted. It should be noted that these laws apply only to federal primaries and elections.

The only attempt by the present administration through its attorney general to enforce the Taft-Hartley Act on this subject fizzled out. In the trial of the case, which had to do with the UAW, the judge gave what seemed to me inadequate instructions to the jury.

Members of the jury questioned later indicated that they did not know the law or the facts sufficiently to render an intelligent verdict.

THE ANALOGY between union members and stockholders is all wrong. Nobody is compelled to be a stockholder. He is at liberty at any moment to sell out if he is not satisfied with the way a corporation is using his money. But under a union shop, a union member who disagrees with the political position of his officers on an issue or a candidate has his livelihood at stake.

Theoretically, he might protest, or in some cases get back that part of his dues which is used in politics. But actually he doesn't dare.

Moreover, a great deal of the political activities of unions is counted by them as "education."

In the UAW case it was openly admitted by the lawyer of the union that "one cannot draw a line between bargaining and politics."

As far as I know, no corporation would dare to do the same things with stockholders' money.

Businessmen are scared enough already because of fear of the unions, and of their stockholders.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO—Arrangements for perfecting the organization of Boy Scout Troop 20 of the First Methodist Episcopal Church were completed at a meeting of the boys and their leaders.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Police issued their annual warning that parents will be held responsible where celebrating children destroy property in pre-season Halloween pranks.

First active opposition appeared to the proposed installation of parking meters in East Liverpool as petitions signed by 100 individuals were submitted to council.

TEN YEARS AGO—The Junior Chamber of Commerce launched an appeal among district industries and business places to consider the employment of handicapped persons.

Private Schools

By David Lawrence

South May Switch To Private Education

Present day controversies may enable private schools in America to come into their own.

Private enterprise has again and again proved that it can do a better job than governmentally-managed business. With the prospect that the federal government is likely more and more to take away control from the states and move in now on the public schools — which could mean more "mass education" and less specialization — alternative systems of private education will be given renewed impetus. There is already much criticism of the "mediocrity" of public schools due to large classes and poor teaching.

David Lawrence

Bona fide private schools, financed by private funds and operated in privately - owned buildings, are today a major success in American education.

It is an open secret among educators that many of the graduates of state colleges and universities would have not been able to pass the entrance exams of the leading colleges and universities that are privately endowed.

Many parents, moreover, find a big defect in the public schools because they do not teach any religious principles or touch religion even in a nonsectarian way. This is regarded as an unfortunate omission in the education of the child.

The Supreme Court of the United States, however, has declared it to be a violation of the Constitution to allow religious instruction in classes inside public schools.

A CIRCUMVENTION of this was upheld in a later case by the court which said state laws are constitutional that provide for "released time." This means that students who wish to attend religious classes outside public schools during school hours may be released for that purpose, but other students who do not wish religious instruction must stay in the classrooms for other instruction.

The question of whether this is discrimination as between students or connivance by a public agency of the state with a private religious school has not been finally settled.

Many lawyers predict that ultimately there will be a reversal by the court. If this happens, it will give added reason for enrollment in private schools.

Grover S. McLeod, a prominent attorney of Birmingham, who from the start has had no illusions about schemes to use public school buildings for private education, wrote a few weeks ago for the "Alabama Lawyer," published by the Alabama Bar Association, an article saying that the South has been making a mistake in failing to organize private school systems promptly. He says:

"To a lawyer who has followed the segregation cases, it is apparant that the state cannot exercise any part in the operation of a private - school system. In other words, if we are to have a segregated school system, then public education, as we have known it, is finished.

"The Catholic Church has a system that we can emulate. The church has for a number of years operated a system here in Alabama that offered an excellent education with no interference from the state.

"MOST PROTESTANT churches in Alabama have large physical plants. They have educational buildings that are little used except on Sundays. . . . The Protestant churches should prepare themselve for the eventual education of the children. They have hospitals, and some of them are the best in the state — why can't they have day schools for the children?

"Then, how would the teachers and administrators be paid? That problem is not significant, for the state may readily say that it collects so much money for the purpose of education and that each child is entitled to a specific amount for education. In other words, if each child is entitled to $200 per year for education, the parent or guardian would be mailed the sum which has set at the beginning of the school year.

"The parent could take the $200 and pay to the specific church school, or he could take the sum and buy a new car or do as he liked. But those whose children attended a school would pay for their education."

Mr. McLeod concedes there wouldn't be uniformity, but, he says, there is criticism of the public school system today as tending to be "uniform and mediocre."

HE ADDS that teachers will be better off in a private school system, because they will get the benefit of group - retirement programs and no doubt will earn higher pay than as public-school teachers.

He contends that the school administrator, too, "will have a new place — he actually will administer" and that his position will differ from the present bureaucratic post, as "he will have to think and do a job."

This proposal brings into the open some delicate questions. Heretofore many parents of children attending parochial schools have felt they were the victims of double taxation — they have been paying for the upkeep of public schools and also for the education of their children in private religious schools.

Some more equitable arrangement, therefore, may incidentally emerge out of the present confusion as private schools of all religious denominations take hold of the problem of bringing up as well as educating the youth of the land.

Maybe, as the Birmingham attorney puts it, "from this fight, without our realizing it, something good will come," and "maybe the very extreme that is being pressured is one of the most wholesome things to come forth in the last 150 years."

Nixon's Shock

By David Barnett

Vice President Richard Nixon's unusually violent reaction to the release of information on mail received at the State Department on the Far East crisis was prompted by two factors:

1. The vice president's aides had information indicating at least some of the mail was the result of an organized plan.

2. Nixon's blast and his speeches supporting a firm policy in the Formosa Strait are designed to gain financial support for his anticipated 1960 presidential campaign from right-wing supporters of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

Nixon said he was "shocked" at the release of information by the State Department that some 5,000 letters on China policy had been received in the past month and that 80 per cent were critical of U.S. policy.

JUST BEFORE leaving on a campaign trip, Nixon added that some of the letters were obviously "inspired." The State Department said some of the correspondence were mimeographed, some were on cards and most merely opposed any U.S. involvement in war over the off-shore islands.

Aides at the vice president's office have quitely passed the word to some reporters that they know of at least one campaign now under way to flood the executive offices with 30,000 letters opposing U.S. policy on China.

It was understood that the capaign was being sponsored by an organization known as Women United.

Mrs. Lloyd K. Garrison, wife of a well-known New York lawyer, was reported to be one of the planners of the campaign. Attempts to reach Mrs. Garrison at her summer home in Katonah, N. Y., and at her New York town house were unsuccessful.

Nixon had contended that some "subordinate" within the State Department was trying to "sabotage" the administration's foreign policy by releasing the information on the mail.

The State Department discounted the "sabotage" charge and said no action would be taken against anybody in the public correspondence branch of the department for making the information available.

THE SUGGESTION that the vice president was "wooing" the campaign dollars of the Chiang supporters was made by a Republican politician who is a supporter of the vice president.

The politician, who insisted that he not be named, said Nixon had been increasingly disturbed by the drying-up of sources of funds for the Republican party. He added:

"The Nixon blast was well designed to bring the dollars to him. The implication was that some holdover Democrat in the department was doing the damage and that if he, Nixon, were president, these birds would be routed out."

Nixon's personal position with the right-wingers became even stronger today, after the press conference of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. The consensus after the conference was that the administration was actively looking for a "face-saving device" to pull most of Chiang's forces out of the off-shore islands and, eventually, to turn the islands over to the Chinese Reds.

The Fund Deserves Your Support

The Community Fund appeal is being made again, with the campaign goal $83,173.

For reasons difficult to understand, the fund has had rough going here in the past, with the goal achieved but once.

Here's where the dollars go—Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Recreational Council, YMCA, Salvation Army and USO. These organizations speak for themselves. All can proudly take their place in the community. All can point to a record of outstanding service over the years. And were they not with us, it would be tragic indeed.

Like your home or like your business, it takes money to operate them properly and to provide the maximum services which are within their scope. They must depend on the residents of East Liverpool, Wellsville, Chester and Newell to provide a good part of this money.

The burden would be relatively light if each person does his or her part. This is one of those cases where you can't sit back and "let George do it." The responsibility is yours as well as George's. So when the appeal reaches you, don't turn your back. Accept it and dig as deeply into your pocket as circumstances will allow.

The dividends will be many. For a few dollars, you get healthier bodies, sounder minds and the development of youth in a spiritual sense.

You provide those who have strayed a chance to return to a normal, happy existance.

You make things more cheerful for those of your friends in the armed services.

And last, but by no means least, you experience the self-satisfaction that goes with being part of a deserving enterprise.

Each time the fund fails to reach its goal, it's a reflection on the community as a whole. Let's put this year's drive over the top and keep the record spotless for 1958.

The Gimo Knows His Business

It is easily possible to have an impression that the U.S. State Department is unusually sensitive to Chiang Kai-shek; that he is in a position to dictate U.S. policy.

The impression is correct. The State Department is unusually sensitive to Chiang, who has vastly more influence than might be indicated by his seemingly hopeless position on the island of Formosa.

As leader of the only resistance to the Chinese Communist regime of China proper, Chiang is an important symbol — an Asiatic man of destiny who thoroughly knows his business.

His business is to play off allies and opponents against one another to his best possible advantage. This has been his career. It has been extraordinarily successful. At the age of 70, Chiang still works hard at it. He has been nicknamed "the gimo," which is short for "the generalissimo." He commands respect in many parts of the world, financial resources wherever Chinese want to see the Communist regime of mainland China destroyed and the fear of his opponents.

His most masterful accomplishment would be to embroil the Communists and the United States, or perhaps the United Nations, in war over Quemoy, Matsu and the offshore islands, in the hope of restoring his power in mainland China after Communist China had been defeated.

This is what President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles are up against in their attempt to develop a policy. This is why they must be sensitive to Chiang as well as to what they know about his realistic attitude. He is interested first, last and always in his own interests — an attitude that Americans always find shocking.

When it served Chiang to be an ally of the Communists, he was. That was when he was a young revolutionist learning the military trade as a communist cub. He had to be bulldozed into fighting Japan, because he did not think it was in his interest. When it finally was, he fought Japan.

It is in his interest now to get the United States and the People's Republic of China into war. There is nothing wrong about this from his point of view. It is not evil, just realistic.

If the United States is equally realistic, that is not evil, either — just sensible. One man who knows his business never holds it against another man who knows his business for looking out for himself in a showdown.

It seems to me to be the only possible interpretation of the paper's Sept. 22 editorial. It put Adams in a GOP group "that has displayed an understanding of labor's role."

As much as anything else in the Adams saga, this irritated those close to the former assistant to the president these past few days. During previous attacks on Adams, these associates had pointed out to at least one inquirer, that Adams was quite a labor expert and had worked closely with some union chiefs for many years.

WHEN HE WAS in the New Hampshire House of Representatives, Adams was chairman of the state labor committee. Textile Workers Union officials had easy access to him—as they did when he was governor.

When he got to the House of Representatives in Washington, Adams readily took a seat on the Labor Committee. Union chiefs found him easier to deal with than many of the others.

Then came the moment in 1956 when Adams, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and Harold Stassen made up the Eisenhower combined-chiefs-to-staff. Together they wooed the labor movement.

It was Adams who made the final decision which moved the late Martin Durkin from the presidency of the AFL Plumbers Union to the President's cabinet as U.S. Secretary of Labor—the first union chief to hold this office.

Only once before had this post been offered to a labor leader. That was Calvin Coolidge's bid, via Herbert Hoover (then secretary of commerce), to an upcoming fellow named John L. Lewis.

It was Adams who approved Durkin's successor, Jim Mitchell, who certainly has given labor a square deal. But Adams turned on the ice water when the union people decided to attack President Eisenhower personally.

The labor chiefs "forgot" his old record until after he resigned. Then they remembered.

Political Approaches

By Raymond Moley

An editorial has appeared in at least one of a very influential chain of newspapers which is so likely to mislead businessmen and others that it deserves a reply. It speaks of certain large corporations which have recently recommended that their employes participate in politics. It draws an analogy between using stockholders' money for this and the use of dues money by unions for their activity. It speaks of "making a right out of two wrongs."

Not only does this editorial misinterpret, perhaps through ignorance, what the corporations have done recently, but the analogy it seeks to draw between current union activity and that of the businessmen in question is not a true one.

In the first place, as far as I know of what corporations have done — and my information on this is quite ample — they have not put their companies into political activity.

THEY HAVE SAID, in public statements and in communications to their employes, that it is the duty and responsibility of employes to participate in political affairs on their own. This is good advice for every man and woman in America.

One of the shames of the times is the refusal of Americans to do much about choosing their public officials. Indeed, millions do not trouble even to vote.

No corporation that I have heard of has actually used corporation funds directly in behalf of a political candidate or party. They obey the old law of 1907 on that point.

The Taft-Hartley Act, which puts the same prohibition on labor unions, however, is openly flouted. It should be noted that these laws apply only to federal primaries and elections.

The only attempt by the present administration through its attorney general to enforce the Taft-Hartley Act on this subject fizzled out. In the trial of the case, which had to do with the UAW, the judge gave what seemed to me inadequate instructions to the jury.

Members of the jury questioned later indicated that they did not know the law or the facts sufficiently to render an intelligent verdict.

THE ANALOGY between union members and stockholders is all wrong. Nobody is compelled to be a stockholder. He is at liberty at any moment to sell out if he is not satisfied with the way a corporation is using his money. But under a union shop, a union member who disagrees with the political position of his officers on an issue or a candidate has his livelihood at stake.

Theoretically, he might protest, or in some cases get back that part of his dues which is used in politics. But actually he doesn't dare.

Moreover, a great deal of the political activities of unions is counted by them as "education."

In the UAW case it was openly admitted by the lawyer of the union that "one cannot draw a line between bargaining and politics."

As far as I know, no corporation would dare to do the same things with stockholders' money.

Businessmen are scared enough already because of fear of the unions, and of their stockholders.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO—Arrangements for perfecting the organization of Boy Scout Troop 20 of the First Methodist Episcopal Church were completed at a meeting of the boys and their leaders.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Police issued their annual warning that parents will be held responsible where celebrating children destroy property in pre-season Halloween pranks.

First active opposition appeared to the proposed installation of parking meters in East Liverpool as petitions signed by 100 individuals were submitted to council.

TEN YEARS AGO—The Junior Chamber of Commerce launched an appeal among district industries and business places to consider the employment of handicapped persons.

Private Schools

By David Lawrence

South May Switch To Private Education

Present day controversies may enable private schools in America to come into their own.

Private enterprise has again and again proved that it can do a better job than governmentally-managed business. With the prospect that the federal government is likely more and more to take away control from the states and move in now on the public schools — which could mean more "mass education" and less specialization — alternative systems of private education will be given renewed impetus. There is already much criticism of the "mediocrity" of public schools due to large classes and poor teaching.

David Lawrence

Bona fide private schools, financed by private funds and operated in privately - owned buildings, are today a major success in American education.

It is an open secret among educators that many of the graduates of state colleges and universities would have not been able to pass the entrance exams of the leading colleges and universities that are privately endowed.

Many parents, moreover, find a big defect in the public schools because they do not teach any religious principles or touch religion even in a nonsectarian way. This is regarded as an unfortunate omission in the education of the child.

The Supreme Court of the United States, however, has declared it to be a violation of the Constitution to allow religious instruction in classes inside public schools.

A CIRCUMVENTION of this was upheld in a later case by the court which said state laws are constitutional that provide for "released time." This means that students who wish to attend religious classes outside public schools during school hours may be released for that purpose, but other students who do not wish religious instruction must stay in the classrooms for other instruction.

The question of whether this is discrimination as between students or connivance by a public agency of the state with a private religious school has not been finally settled.

Many lawyers predict that ultimately there will be a reversal by the court. If this happens, it will give added reason for enrollment in private schools.

Grover S. McLeod, a prominent attorney of Birmingham, who from the start has had no illusions about schemes to use public school buildings for private education, wrote a few weeks ago for the "Alabama Lawyer," published by the Alabama Bar Association, an article saying that the South has been making a mistake in failing to organize private school systems promptly. He says:

"To a lawyer who has followed the segregation cases, it is apparant that the state cannot exercise any part in the operation of a private - school system. In other words, if we are to have a segregated school system, then public education, as we have known it, is finished.

"The Catholic Church has a system that we can emulate. The church has for a number of years operated a system here in Alabama that offered an excellent education with no interference from the state.

"MOST PROTESTANT churches in Alabama have large physical plants. They have educational buildings that are little used except on Sundays. . . . The Protestant churches should prepare themselve for the eventual education of the children. They have hospitals, and some of them are the best in the state — why can't they have day schools for the children?

"Then, how would the teachers and administrators be paid? That problem is not significant, for the state may readily say that it collects so much money for the purpose of education and that each child is entitled to a specific amount for education. In other words, if each child is entitled to $200 per year for education, the parent or guardian would be mailed the sum which has set at the beginning of the school year.

"The parent could take the $200 and pay to the specific church school, or he could take the sum and buy a new car or do as he liked. But those whose children attended a school would pay for their education."

Mr. McLeod concedes there wouldn't be uniformity, but, he says, there is criticism of the public school system today as tending to be "uniform and mediocre."

HE ADDS that teachers will be better off in a private school system, because they will get the benefit of group - retirement programs and no doubt will earn higher pay than as public-school teachers.

He contends that the school administrator, too, "will have a new place — he actually will administer" and that his position will differ from the present bureaucratic post, as "he will have to think and do a job."

This proposal brings into the open some delicate questions. Heretofore many parents of children attending parochial schools have felt they were the victims of double taxation — they have been paying for the upkeep of public schools and also for the education of their children in private religious schools.

Some more equitable arrangement, therefore, may incidentally emerge out of the present confusion as private schools of all religious denominations take hold of the problem of bringing up as well as educating the youth of the land.

Maybe, as the Birmingham attorney puts it, "from this fight, without our realizing it, something good will come," and "maybe the very extreme that is being pressured is one of the most wholesome things to come forth in the last 150 years."

Nixon's Shock

By David Barnett

Vice President Richard Nixon's unusually violent reaction to the release of information on mail received at the State Department on the Far East crisis was prompted by two factors:

1. The vice president's aides had information indicating at least some of the mail was the result of an organized plan.

2. Nixon's blast and his speeches supporting a firm policy in the Formosa Strait are designed to gain financial support for his anticipated 1960 presidential campaign from right-wing supporters of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

Nixon said he was "shocked" at the release of information by the State Department that some 5,000 letters on China policy had been received in the past month and that 80 per cent were critical of U.S. policy.

JUST BEFORE leaving on a campaign trip, Nixon added that some of the letters were obviously "inspired." The State Department said some of the correspondence were mimeographed, some were on cards and most merely opposed any U.S. involvement in war over the off-shore islands.

Aides at the vice president's office have quitely passed the word to some reporters that they know of at least one campaign now under way to flood the executive offices with 30,000 letters opposing U.S. policy on China.

It was understood that the capaign was being sponsored by an organization known as Women United.

Mrs. Lloyd K. Garrison, wife of a well-known New York lawyer, was reported to be one of the planners of the campaign. Attempts to reach Mrs. Garrison at her summer home in Katonah, N. Y., and at her New York town house were unsuccessful.

Nixon had contended that some "subordinate" within the State Department was trying to "sabotage" the administration's foreign policy by releasing the information on the mail.

The State Department discounted the "sabotage" charge and said no action would be taken against anybody in the public correspondence branch of the department for making the information available.

THE SUGGESTION that the vice president was "wooing" the campaign dollars of the Chiang supporters was made by a Republican politician who is a supporter of the vice president.

The politician, who insisted that he not be named, said Nixon had been increasingly disturbed by the drying-up of sources of funds for the Republican party. He added:

"The Nixon blast was well designed to bring the dollars to him. The implication was that some holdover Democrat in the department was doing the damage and that if he, Nixon, were president, these birds would be routed out."

Nixon's personal position with the right-wingers became even stronger today, after the press conference of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. The consensus after the conference was that the administration was actively looking for a "face-saving device" to pull most of Chiang's forces out of the off-shore islands and, eventually, to turn the islands over to the Chinese Reds.

Salvation Army To Hold Rally Of Sunday School

A special rally in observance of National Sunday School Week will be conducted in the Salvation Army Citadel tomorrow at 9:30 a. m., featuring Maj. John W. Lyons of Cleveland, young people's secretary for the Northeast Ohio Division.

The Ceramic Citadel Band under the direction of Matt Clark, bandmaster, will provide the music for the unified service, combining Sunday School, Junior Soldiers' Assembly and the regular Holiness meeting.

A "Decision Hour" will be presided over by Maj. Lyons who oversees youth activities in 33 corps in the division.

This will mark the merger of morning and afternoon Sunday Schools and the new unit will be conducted at 9:30 a. m.

The original Sunday School, established soon after the Salvation Army came to East Liverpool in 1884, has traditionally been conducted in the afternoon, because street services were usually held preceding the regular morning service, thus engaging the personnel, Maj. William Murtaugh, corps commander, pointed out.

Some years later an Outpost Sunday School was organized in the East End and about 10 years ago it was necessary to transfer to the citadel when the property being used at that time had to be vacated. Chartered bus service was engaged and a morning Sunday School was instituted in the citadel.

In recent years, there has been a trend favoring the morning hour and the teaching staff of the combined Sunday Schools, after much study, believed the merger desirable. This will be effective tomorrow, the beginning of another school year, Maj. Murtaugh said.

Mrs. Purle Clutter will serve as young people's sergeant - major leading the Sunday School, assisted by Mrs. Donald Sims, assistant young people's sergeant-major.

The recording staff will consist of Nell Garren, Grace Mitchell and Carol Radeschi.

The Young People's Legion will be conducted at 6 p. m. followed by an open-air meeting on the diamond at 7. The evening service will be held in the citadel at 7:45.

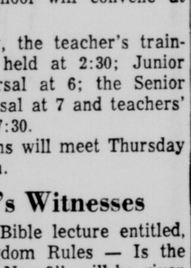
HUMANITY CALLING

By SR. MAJOR WILLIAM MURTAUGH Of THE SALVATION army



COMMUNITY FUND

"Everyone gives - - everyone benefits".
". . . for God loveth a cheerful giver". II Cor. 9:7

This slogan of the current Community Fund is very timely—"everybody gives, everybody benefits".

The agencies represented in the Community Fund Association give heart and character to the life of the community.

These agencies are sometimes criticized and ostracized for one thing or another, but they endure because they have the element of survival in them which typifies the "American Way".

We are prone to find fault with any appeal that tugs at our purse strings, yet we spend freely on "the bread that perisheth".

Dame Rumor is a malicious character, and is quick to cast aspersions upon the sincere services carried on by dedicated persons.

If the Community Fund were sufficiently supported by generous donors, the participating agencies would not be obliged to devise ways and means to supplement their income to give you the finest in character building and humanitarian services possible.

Let us just pause and think a moment of our spending habits — how self-centered many of them are—and we'll appreciate the real bargain in good-will and community service offered us for at least one hour's pay a month for twelve months.

Salvation Army To Hold Rally Of Sunday School

A special rally in observance of National Sunday School Week will be conducted in the Salvation Army Citadel tomorrow at 9:30 a. m., featuring Maj. John W. Lyons of Cleveland, young people's secretary for the Northeast Ohio Division.

The Ceramic Citadel Band under the direction of Matt Clark, bandmaster, will provide the music for the unified service, combining Sunday School, Junior Soldiers' Assembly and the regular Holiness meeting.

A "Decision Hour" will be presided over by Maj. Lyons who oversees youth activities in 33 corps in the division.

This will mark the merger of morning and afternoon Sunday Schools and the new unit will be conducted at 9:30 a. m.

The original Sunday School, established soon after the Salvation Army came to East Liverpool in 1884, has traditionally been conducted in the afternoon, because street services were usually held preceding the regular morning service, thus engaging the personnel, Maj. William Murtaugh, corps commander, pointed out.

Some years later an Outpost Sunday School was organized in the East End and about 10 years ago it was necessary to transfer to the citadel when the property being used at that time had to be vacated. Chartered bus service was engaged and a morning Sunday School was instituted in the citadel.

In recent years, there has been a trend favoring the morning hour and the teaching staff of the combined Sunday Schools, after much study, believed the merger desirable. This will be effective tomorrow, the beginning of another school year, Maj. Murtaugh said.

Mrs. Purle Clutter will serve as young people's sergeant - major leading the Sunday School, assisted by Mrs. Donald Sims, assistant young people's sergeant-major.

The recording staff will consist of Nell Garren, Grace Mitchell and Carol Radeschi.

The Young People's Legion will be conducted at 6 p. m. followed by an open-air meeting on the diamond at 7. The evening service will be held in the citadel at 7:45.

Mrs. Nell Toland and Mrs. Delores Craig are in charge of the planning for the first service.

Robert Dyke, minister, will preach on "Christian Vows" for the 11 a. m. worship service tomorrow.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Wheels in Motion

When the gears of a machine mesh together in motion, things begin to happen. Wheels turn, and power is transmitted to every part of the mechanism.

Prayer is something like that. Individual prayer is a vital and sacred thing. Each of us has moments when we—and we alone—must turn to God.

And collective prayer—mass prayer—can be a tremendous force for good too. It is as if thousands of "spiritual gears" suddenly were meshed together into a unit directed by a single purpose.

On Worldwide Communion Sunday, remember the power of collective prayer. Join with your neighbors throughout the globe by attending church and praying both for peace and for each other.

On Worldwide Communion Sunday, remember the power of collective prayer. Join with your neighbors throughout the globe by attending church and praying both for peace and for each other.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Injury-Racked Potters Edged By Youngstown Rayen, 7-6

Wellsville Trips Bellaire St. John's, 6-0, For First Win

Rugged Defensive Contest Featured

By CHUCK CRONIN

East Liverpool High's young Potters — stripped of valuable manpower by a recent crop of injuries — matched touchdowns with Youngstown Rayen's hefty Tigers but were nosed out, 7-6, due to a missed extra point conversion in a gruelling defensive battle Friday night at Patterson Field.

A brisk autumn night drew upwards of 3,500 fans who saw the Tigers flash their touchdown lightning only briefly in the first quarter and then wage a terrific defensive struggle in a scoreless second half after the game Potters had walked off the field at halftime trailing by a single point.

Rayen's first and only bolt saw fleet halfback Jim Bertilacci scoot 44 yards through a gaping hole in the middle of the Potter line for a touchdown with 5:04 left in the first period, and a perfect placement by Bruce Jamison provided Rayen with its second victory of the year.

The Potter touchdown came late in the second period when quarterback Bob Mackall hit end Ron Prince with a short pass from five yards out, but another attempted pass for a conversion which would have put East Liverpool in front was batted down by Rayen's towering line.

That was it for the Potters although Coach Lou Venditti's team took to the airlanes in the second half and threatened twice, but with two varsity backs and a lineman missing from the lineup with injuries, simply lacked the punch to run through the seasoned Rayen line.

But for the quick opening play in the first period when Bertilacci shot up the middle for Rayen's touchdown, the Potters might have run their victory string to two in a row had the two - point pass conversion been realized.

—:—

The stubborn Potter defenders played Rayen on even terms in the second half, allowing the visitors to penetrate only to the East Liverpool 18 - yard line, although the booming punts of quarterback Frank Horvath kept the Potters deep in their own territory for the biggest part of the time.

Venditti's charges rolled up a total of 153 yards rushing and added another 122 via Bobb Mackall's pin-point passes for a total yards gained of 275 to Rayen's 156.

Mackall, who took to the air in previous games only when necessary, completely reversed the Potters' usual attack by throwing 18 passes and completing 8, including the touchdown heave to Prince.

With halfback Dave Zelch and fullback Bill O'Neil sitting out with injuries, the Potter running game picked up only 153 yards including losses, a drop from the first three game average of 186 yards. The decrease also reflected the injury to halfback Dave Goodballet, who saw only spot action and was the chief target for Mackall's passes.

Tackle Mike Kapp, who was out with a leg injury, was sorely missed in the Potter defensive unit, and along with Zelch and O'Neil, could have made the difference between a one - point defeat and a victory.

Venditti felt that his sophomore-dotted squad turned in a very commendable performance against the heavier Rayen eleven and was particularly pleased with the improvement in the squad's passing attack.

Venditti injected sophomore Joe Thompson and junior Henry Roach in the Potter backfield in place of the injured regulars and each gave indications of having the ability to be first - stringers next season.

Rayen's offensive machinery was on a par below that of past East Liverpool opponents but the Tiger defenders hit exceptionally hard and 180-pound guard Dom Vechiarelli consistently thwarted the running game of the locals. Horvath, a hard - running quarterback who threw an exceptionally long pass, reeled off several long runs on punt returns and was a standout both ways for the visitors.

Rayen lived up to its billing as a rough defensive club in halting East Liverpool's power plays but was very vulnerable on pass defense as statistics indicate.

Rayen scored the second time it got possession in the first quarter, taking only nine plays to move from its own 26-yard line. Bertilacci put the Youngstowners in front with his long dash after Rayen had gained a first down on the Potter 44.

Coach Ralph Robinette, an Ohio University product, went for the one - point conversion following the touchdown and the gamble eventually paid off with a victory although the final outcome could have went either way.

A 19-yard run by Dave Goodballet on a reverse set up East Liverpool's second quarter touchdown which came with 2:42 left in the period. The Potters had gained possession on their own 41, moved to the Rayen 5 in nine plays including two passes from Mackall to Goodballet and the junior quarterback hit Prince in the end zone to bring the Blue and White into contention.

KNOWING THAT the Potters could move ahead, 8-7, if a run or a pass PAT was completed, Mackall went for the throw which was blocked by a charging Rayen lineman, and the scoring ended for the night.

Speedy Nick Musuraca, who scored two touchdowns last week when the Potters whipped New Philadelphia, 16-6, had a tough time running against the hefty Rayen line, and the rigged 155-pounder was held to 33 yards rushing in 13 carries. However, he once again sparked the Potter defense with a host of tackles and was a standout along with tackle Skip Hall and guard Ravenna Bell on defense.

Robinette used Horvath's punting ability to full advantage and held the Potters in their own territory with a 38 - yard average in five kicks. Late in the fourth quarter, Horvath put the Potters back on their heels when one of his kicks rolled dead on the 15-yard line.

Needing only a point to tie and two to win, the Potters began a

Stevens Racks Up Tiger Touchdown

By ROB NIBLOCK

An ironclad Wellsville defense turned back numerous goalward thrusts by Bellaire St. John's in the second half and preserved a 6-0 victory for the Tigers Friday night before a small turnout at Nicholson Stadium.

Some 950 fans saw Coach Ken Woods' Wellsville team notch its first victory of the season by virtue of a second period touchdown by halfback Jim Stevens.

Stevens contributed heavily to the Wellsville triumph, aside from scoring the only touchdown. The junior halfback, who leads the Tigers in scoring, carried most of the offensive burden, blocked many passes, and came up from the secondary on several occasions to make tackles. In addition, he suffered an ankle injury in the second period but still remained for almost the entire contest.

The entire Wellsville defense was effective, especially when the Irish threatened, but junior guard Phil Vernon harrassed the St. John's offense by crashing through to bring down Dick Cruciotti on several pass attempts. He also got down under many of Bob Brown's punts to bring down the receivers with crashing tackles.

IT WAS sweet revenge for the Tigers who suffered a 61-3 lacing at the hands of the Irish last season and had not beaten the down-river foe since 1953.

Coach Frank Nassida's St. John's eleven, which has not won a game in four outings, battled the Tigers all the way, causing them many anxious moments in the last quarter with drives that carried as deep as the Wellsville 3-yard line.

With less than five minutes remaining, Bob Delposen fumbled on a handoff from quarterback Bob Kiggans at the Wellsville 20 but some good defensive work by the Tigers and a 15-yard penalty halted the last St. John's threat.

St. John's led in every department, statistics-wise, as they out first-downed Wellsville, 9-5, and had total yardage of 163 compared to 33 yards for the Tigers. But the Irish were unable to penetrate the Wellsville defense once they got inside the 20, and Tiger end Bob Brown held them further at bay with booming punts.

After an exchange of punts in the opening minutes of the game, St. John's recovered a Wellsville fumble at the Tiger 29-yard line. Ray Belardo lost a yard on the first play, but Irish quarterback Crucitti, a sophomore who has the poise of a veteran, fired a pass to end Ron Moran at the 9. Two successive penalties set them back to the 19 and another Cruciotti pass was intercepted by Stevens in the end zone to halt the drive.

—:—

WELLSVILLE punted out of trouble and Bellaire fumbled on a reverse two plays later with Tiger tackle Len Cuti pouncing on the ball at the 45.

The Tigers were unable to muster an offensive but St. John's was charged with roughing kicker Brown, giving Wellsville a first down situation at the St. John's 29-yard line.

The Tigers picked up a first down at the 19 on a pass from Kiggans to Brown and a run by Stevens. Delposen then carried eight yards to the 11.

Stevens moved it to the nine on a powerplay and Kiggans carried to the five where Stevens slid off tackle for the touchdown. Delposen's run for the extra point failed and Wellsville had its six-point lead at 11:02 of the second quarter.

Bellaire applied more pressure before the half ended by marching from its own 44-yard line to the Tiger three in seven plays. Screen passes from Cruciotti to fullback Ray Sauritch of 13 and 33 yards, respectively, earned most of the yardage.

With the ball at the three, Halfback Dick Cavicchia picked up one around the right end but when he tried it again on the next play John Euill and Stevens drove him back to the seven. Cruciotti then attempted two passes which were batted down by Tiger defenders and Wellsville regained possession with moments remaining in the half.

—:—

THE THIRD quarter was a back and forth affair with neither team penetrating the other's territory too deeply. Wellsville failed to get a fourth down in that stanza and it was Brown's punting which kept them out of trouble.

Cruciotti filled the air with passes in the fourth quarter, completing three in 10 attempts, and the Irish drove to the Wellsville 29, 3, and 17 on three different marches.

The first drive failed when Sauritch did not make the necessary yardage on a fourth down at the Wellsville 29.

Kiggans was then snowed under on two running attempts after the Tigers took over, moving the ball back to the 18 where Brown punted to the Wellsville 35.

Stevens contributed heavily to the Wellsville triumph, aside from scoring the only touchdown. The junior halfback, who leads the Tigers in scoring, carried most of the offensive burden, blocked many passes, and came up from the secondary on several occasions to make tackles. In addition, he suffered an ankle injury in the second period but still remained for almost the entire contest.

The entire Wellsville defense was effective, especially when the Irish threatened, but junior guard Phil Vernon harrassed the St. John's offense by crashing through to bring down Dick Cruciotti on several pass attempts. He also got down under many of Bob Brown's punts to bring down the receivers with crashing tackles.

IT WAS sweet revenge for the Tigers who suffered a 61-3 lacing at the hands of the Irish last season and had not beaten the down-river foe since 1953.

Coach Frank Nassida's St. John's eleven, which has not won a game in four outings, battled the Tigers all the way, causing them many anxious moments in the last quarter with drives that carried as deep as the Wellsville 3-yard line.

With less than five minutes remaining, Bob Delposen fumbled on a handoff from quarterback Bob Kiggans at the Wellsville 20 but some good defensive work by the Tigers and a 15-yard penalty halted the last St. John's threat.

St. John's led in every department, statistics-wise, as they out first-downed Wellsville, 9-5, and had total yardage of 163 compared to 33 yards for the Tigers. But the Irish were unable to penetrate the Wellsville defense once they got inside the 20, and Tiger end Bob Brown held them further at bay with booming punts.

After an exchange of punts in the opening minutes of the game, St. John's recovered a Wellsville fumble at the Tiger 29-yard line. Ray Belardo lost a yard on the first play, but Irish quarterback Crucitti, a sophomore who has the poise of a veteran, fired a pass to end Ron Moran at the 9. Two successive penalties set them back to the 19 and another Cruciotti pass was intercepted by Stevens in the end zone to halt the drive.

—:—

WELLSVILLE punted out of trouble and Bellaire fumbled on a reverse two plays later with Tiger tackle Len Cuti pouncing on the ball at the 45.

The Tigers were unable to muster an offensive but St. John's was charged with roughing kicker Brown, giving Wellsville a first down situation at the St. John's 29-yard line.

The Tigers picked up a first down at the 19 on a pass from Kiggans to Brown and a run by Stevens. Delposen then carried eight yards to the 11.

Stevens moved it to the nine on a powerplay and Kiggans carried to the five where Stevens slid off tackle for the touchdown. Delposen's run for the extra point failed and Wellsville had its six-point lead at 11:02 of the second quarter.

Bellaire applied more pressure before the half ended by marching from its own 44-yard line to the Tiger three in seven plays. Screen passes from Cruciotti to fullback Ray Sauritch of 13 and 33 yards, respectively, earned most of the yardage.

With the ball at the three, Halfback Dick Cavicchia picked up one around the right end but when he tried it again on the next play John Euill and Stevens drove him back to the seven. Cruciotti then attempted two passes which were batted down by Tiger defenders and Wellsville regained possession with moments remaining in the half.

—:—

THE THIRD quarter was a back and forth affair with neither team penetrating the other's territory too deeply. Wellsville failed to get a fourth down in that stanza and it was Brown's punting which kept them out of trouble.

Cruciotti filled the air with passes in the fourth quarter, completing three in 10 attempts, and the Irish drove to the Wellsville 29, 3, and 17 on three different marches.

The first drive failed when Sauritch did not make the necessary yardage on a fourth down at the Wellsville 29.

Kiggans was then snowed under on two running attempts after the Tigers took over, moving the ball back to the 18 where Brown punted to the Wellsville 35.

Midland Dropped From Unbeaten List By Braddock, 9-7

East Palestine Turns Back Lisbon With 16-14 Victory

Victors Post 40th Straight On Late Drive

BRADDOCK — Braddock High — defending WPIAL champion and winner of 40 games without a loss — beat Midland, 9-7, Friday night at Braddock.

A first period safety, which occurred when Nick Vuckovich stepped on his own end zone line, allowed Braddock to notch its fourth straight win of the season and was Midland's first defeat of the year.

The only blemish on the long Braddock victory skein is a tie with Midland in a 1954 WPIAL playoff game. Since that deadlock with the Leopards, Braddock has rolled over all opposition and won three titles.

After the safety, neither team scored in the first half. But Midland mounted an offensive in the third quarter which carried 65 yards for a touchdown.

The key play in the Midland drive was a 30-yard pass from quarterback Ray Keller to end Bill LeMasters. LeMasters made a diving catch on the Braddock one-yard line and Vuckovich carried over for the touchdown. Jim Schulte kicked the extra point and Midland had a 7-2 third period lead.

In the final frame, Braddock took over on its own 37 - yard line after a punt by Vuckovich. On that punt, Vuckovich was smashed by a Braddock defender and was carried from the field amid Midland protests that he was roughed. Had the penalty been called, Midland would have had a first down situation instead of relinquishing the ball to Braddock.

Braddock then mounted a scoring drive which carried it to the one - yard line late in the fourth frame where Ben Powell went over for the winning touchdown. Jim Graham booted the extra point.

New Cumberland Gridders Defeat Paden City, 26-14

NEW CUMBERLAND — Coach Chuck Miller's New Cumberland eleven rolled to a 26-14 triumph over Paden City Friday night before a pleased homecoming crowd at New Cumberland.

Bill Freshour led the attack with two touchdowns as the Raiders scored in every period in gaining their third victory of the season. New Cumberland also avenged a 27-0 loss to Paden City of last season.

Ron Haynes opened the scoring for the Raiders when he scooped up a fumble on the visitors' 45-yard line and went the distance for the touchdown in the first quarter. The run for the extra point failed.

Paden city came back in the second period on a touchdown drive of 47 yards which was climaxed by a 10-yard scoring pass from Jerry Barccah to brother Ed Barccah. Craig added the extra point on a rush.

Trailing 7-6 in the second quarter, New Cumberland marched 80 yards for a touchdown to take the first half lead. A 40 - yard pass play from George Harris to Bill Freshour was the key play in the Raider offensive. Freshour went over from the one and Harris booted the extra point.

Phil Cullen, the district's leading point producer, took the opening kickoff in the second half and dashed 88 yards for the third New Cumberland score. Harris added his second placement of the evening.

Late in the third period, Jim Watkins went around right end for 51 yards and the second Paden City tally. Craig rushed for the extra point.

Freshour scored his second touchdown in the fourth period by going 11 yards on a double reverse which caught the Paden defense napping.

MINERVA — Visiting Leetonia High's Polar Bears and Minerva High matched fourth-quarter touchdowns here Friday night and battled to an 8-8 tie in a Tri-County League contest.

Coach Pat Mancusco's Bears grabbed an 8-0 lead early in the fourth quarter after three scoreless periods but Minerva punched across a touchdown with less than three minutes left in the game to earn a tie.

Fullback Bob Osterling scored Leetonia's touchdown on a two-yard plunge which capped a 20-yard drive early in the final period while quarterback Jim Grove passed to end Warren Gullet for the extra points.

Ray Hellyer, Minerva's fullback, broke loose for a 38-yard scoring run and quarterback Jim Davidson tosses to end Gale Vendegrift with only minutes left to earn a tie for Minerva.

Leetonia, which had a 17-12 edge in first downs, held Minerva well in check for the first half and allowed only three penetrations across the midfield stripe in the final two periods.

Penalties played a major part in the outcome, with Leetonia losing 25 yards on 3 penalties and Minerva losing 75 on 11 violations.

Bulldogs Win 4th Straight For Mallory

EAST PALESTINE—Coach Bob Mallory's undefeated Bulldogs swept their fourth straight game of the season here Friday night but had a bad scare before conqueroring Lisbon High's Blue Devils, 16-14.

A Dad's Night crowd of more than 3,000 fans saw the two Columbiana County squads match touchdowns in a real thriller but failure to succeed on an extra point attempt cost Coach Bud Bucher's club a chance for at least a tie.

Sparked by the aerial game of quarterback Denny Reese, Lisbon nearly unseated their 20th ranked rivals from among the state's elite with a last-minute scoring threat but time ran out and the Bulldogs managed to keep their unbeaten skein intact.

Reese, who scored one of Lisbon's two touchdowns, completed five of 10 passes for 123 yards of his team's total of 239, while Palestine ground out 257 yards.

A see-saw game all the way, Palestine scored within the first four minutes of the first quarter after taking the opening kickoff and moving to the Lisbon 1-yard stripe from where fullback Beau Bell plunged across. Woods ran for the extra-points conversion.

Bucher's Devils roared right back only minutes later as halfback Tom Brooks broke loose to the Palestine 25 on the kickoff and moved the ball to the 4 on another run, but the scoring chance ended with help of a five-yard penalty and a stubborn defense of the Palestine eleven.

Halfback George Morris, one of the district's fastest, scored Palestine's second touchdown in the second quarter on a 9-yard plunge off tackle. The score was set up on a short punt by Lisbon that rolled backwards and stopped dead on the Lisbon 49. Three plays produced the touchdown and Morris ran the extra points to give his team a 16-0 lead.

With less than three minutes to play in the first half, Reese took to the air lanes and moved Lisbon to the Palestine four-yard line with help of a 37-yard pass—incomplete but called good because of pass interference—from where Denny Johnson scored.

Lisbon went into a fake kick formation on the extra point play, Reese's pass was batted down and the Devils chances for a tie were thwarted.

Lisbon threatened only once in a scoreless third quarter which saw a drive end on the Palestine 16 while two other marches ended 20-yards short of the goal line.

Reese sparked Lisbon to its second touchdown in the fourth quarter with a long pass to Denny Johnson who made an over-the-head catch at the Palestine 14-yard line. Reese scored on fourth down and Williams made the successful conversion on an end run to make the score 16-14 which is how the game ended.

Lisbon, although losing, had a 10-8 edge in first downs, and monopolized the offensive play by running 54 plays to Palestine's 39. Morris's eight points gave him a total of 48 scored in his team's four victories of the season.

Early Birds Line Up To Get Series Tickets

NEW YORK (AP) — About 25 persons lined up at the Yankee Stadium early today waiting for bleacher seats to go on sale for the third game of the World Series.

Several women were in the group which passed the time by drinking coffee in the 55-degree temperature. Two gave their names as Mrs. Catherine Parent of Belmont, N.H., and Mrs. Roy Ince, of Laconia, N.H.

It's Rush Vs. Larsen Today

Precedent Against Yanks As World Series Resumes

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Not only Milwaukee's big bats and strong arms, but precedent was against the New York Yankees today as they tried to pull themselves off the floor for what now would be regarded as a miracle World Series triumph.

Trailing two games to none as they faced the Braves' Bob Rush in the third game, the Yankees found themselves in the same predicament of 27 previous World Series teams.

Of those first two-game losers, only three—the 1921 New York Giants, the 1955 Brooklyn Dodgers and the 1956 Yankees—bounced back to win the series.

The Yankees were favored 7 to 5 to win the Yankee Stadium opener behind Don Larsen.

A huge crowd of close to 70,000 was expected to attend despite the threat of rain. A postponement would not cause Yankee Manager Casey Stengel to switch his pitching selection but Fred Haney, Milwaukee skipper, hinted broadly he would sidetrack Bob Rush for his southpaw ace, Warren Spahn, who won the opener.

"We've got the momentum," he said. "It's always been my experience, when you've got the other fellow on the run, you don't let up. You've got to go after them with your best."

Stengel had his groggy athletes out for an early workout Friday in an effort to sharpen their batting eyes.

"To be honest with you," he said, "I'm a little concerned about my players. They haven't been hitting for more than a month now. There's two or three players who haven't been hitting all year.

"As a matter of fact, the fielding has been downright bad, too. Those other fellows have been hitting 'em where my outfielders can't get them. And they've been hitting them through my infield, too.

Stengel said he was undecided about his lineup but he hinted broadly he would use Norm Siebern in left field and Jerry Lumpe at third base. Both are left-handed hitters. Siebern replaced Elston Howard in the first inning Thursday after the left fielder was injured trying to catch Lew Burdette's drive that just cleared the fence.

Howard worked out behind the plate Friday and said he was ready to play anytime Casey asked him to.

"Howard's all right," Stengel said, "and I'd have him catching if they had gone with a left-hander. Now I just don't know. (Yogi) Berra will be behind the plate."

Haney, who insisted it was still a tough series, despite his obvious advantage said, he would field the same lineup and batting order that racked up five Yankee pitchers for 15 hits in inflicting one of the worst defeats upon the proud American Leaguers in World Series history. That meant left-handed hitters Billy Bruton, the series batting star thus far, would be in center, Wes Covington in left and Frank Torre at first base.

Rush, a 32-year-old right-hander, was making his first start in a World Series. His season record was 10-6. Larsen, who pitched his perfect game against the Dodgers in the 1956 series, was appearing in his fifth World Series game.

Colts, Bears Play Tonight

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Baltimore Colts, twice conqueror of the Chicago Bears last season, try to halt the mighty Midwesterners tonight in a vital National Football League contest.

The Colts, spearheaded by the pinpoint passing of quarterbacks Johnny Unitas and George Shaw and the powerful running of Lenny Moore, L. G. Dupre and Alan Ameche, will be the first serious test for the Chicagoans.

The Bears, under the shrewd coaching eye of George Halas, romped through their exhibition schedule, winning six straight. They opened the regular season last Sunday with a 34-20 victory over Green Bay. Baltimore knocked off defending champion Detroit, 28-15, also without much effort.

Tonight's other game finds Washington playing the Cardinals in Chicago.

Sunday, Joe Perry, a nine-year veteran, likely will break Steve Van Buren's rushing record as he leads the San Francisco 49ers against the Los Angeles Rams at home. Cleveland is at Pittsburgh, Detroit at Green Bay and New York tackles the Eagles at Philadelphia in other games.

The Bears, who finished fifth last season, dropped 21-10 and 29-14 encounters to the Colts during the 1957 campaign. The Chicago team will be counting on Willie Galimore, their brilliant breakaway runner, and the passing of Ed Brown to counteract the varied Colt offense.

Washington CH Rolls Up 90-To-0 Triumph

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP)—The Blue Lions of Washington Court House High School ran up the highest score of the 1958 Ohio football season Friday night. They defeated Little Miami 90-0.

Coached by Fred Domenico, the Blue Lions have beaten Hillsboro, 38-0, and Grove City, 21-8, and lost to Logan, 8-6.

Fishermen Club Plans Election

The Hancock County Fishermen's Club Friday night launched plans for the election meeting to be held Nov. 4.

The group met at the Christian Church in Pughtown but next month's meeting will be at the home of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post at New Cumberland.

The group voted to change meetings to the first Tuesday of each month.

There will be a luncheon and refreshments and a guest speaker. A wild life film will be shown.

Harl Stover, president, who presided last night, urged a big turnout for the election meeting, when officers will be named for 1959.

Midland Dropped From Unbeaten List By Braddock, 9-7

East Palestine Turns Back Lisbon With 16-14 Victory

Victors Post 40th Straight On Late Drive

BRADDOCK — Braddock High — defending WPIAL champion and winner of 40 games without a loss — beat Midland, 9-7, Friday night at Braddock.

A first period safety, which occurred when Nick Vuckovich stepped on his own end zone line, allowed Braddock to notch its fourth straight win of the season and was Midland's first defeat of the year.

The only blemish on the long Braddock victory skein is a tie with Midland in a 1954 WPIAL playoff game. Since that deadlock with the Leopards, Braddock has rolled over all opposition and won three titles.

After the safety, neither team scored in the first half. But Midland mounted an offensive in the third quarter which carried 65 yards for a touchdown.

The key play in the Midland drive was a 30-yard pass from quarterback Ray Keller to end Bill LeMasters. LeMasters made a diving catch on the Braddock one-yard line and Vuckovich carried over for the touchdown. Jim Schulte kicked the extra point and Midland had a 7-2 third period lead.

In the final frame, Braddock took over on its own 37 - yard line after a punt by Vuckovich. On that punt, Vuckovich was smashed by a Braddock defender and was carried from the field amid Midland protests that he was roughed. Had the penalty been called, Midland would have had a first down situation instead of relinquishing the ball to Braddock.

Braddock then mounted a scoring drive which carried it to the one - yard line late in the fourth frame where Ben Powell went over for the winning touchdown. Jim Graham booted the extra point.

New Cumberland Gridders Defeat Paden City, 26-14

NEW CUMBERLAND — Coach Chuck Miller's New Cumberland eleven rolled to a 26-14 triumph over Paden City Friday night before a pleased homecoming crowd at New Cumberland.

Bill Freshour led the attack with two touchdowns as the Raiders scored in every period in gaining their third victory of the season. New Cumberland also avenged a 27-0 loss to Paden City of last season.

Ron Haynes opened the scoring for the Raiders when he scooped up a fumble on the visitors' 45-yard line and went the distance for the touchdown in the first quarter. The run for the extra point failed.

Paden city came back in the second period on a touchdown drive of 47 yards which was climaxed by a 10-yard scoring pass from Jerry Barccah to brother Ed Barccah. Craig added the extra point on a rush.

Trailing 7-6 in the second quarter, New Cumberland marched 80 yards for a touchdown to take the first half lead. A 40 - yard pass play from George Harris to Bill Freshour was the key play in the Raider offensive. Freshour went over from the one and Harris booted the extra point.

Phil Cullen, the district's leading point producer, took the opening kickoff in the second half and dashed 88 yards for the third New Cumberland score. Harris added his second placement of the evening.

Late in the third period, Jim Watkins went around right end for 51 yards and the second Paden City tally. Craig rushed for the extra point.

Freshour scored his second touchdown in the fourth period by going 11 yards on a double reverse which caught the Paden defense napping.

Coach Pat Mancusco's Bears grabbed an 8-0 lead early in the fourth quarter after three scoreless periods but Minerva punched across a touchdown with less than three minutes left in the game to earn a tie.

Fullback Bob Osterling scored Leetonia's touchdown on a two-yard plunge which capped a 20-yard drive early in the final period while quarterback Jim Grove passed to end Warren Gullet for the extra points.

Ray Hellyer, Minerva's fullback, broke loose for a 38-yard scoring run and quarterback Jim Davidson tosses to end Gale Vendegrift with only minutes left to earn a tie for Minerva.

Leetonia, which had a 17-12 edge in first downs, held Minerva well in check for the first half and allowed only three penetrations across the midfield stripe in the final two periods.

Penalties played a major part in the outcome, with Leetonia losing 25 yards on 3 penalties and Minerva losing 75 on 11 violations.

Bulldogs Win 4th Straight For Mallory

EAST PALESTINE—Coach Bob Mallory's undefeated Bulldogs swept their fourth straight game of the season here Friday night but had a bad scare before conquereoring Lisbon High's Blue Devils, 16-14.

A Dad's Night crowd of more than 3,000 fans saw the two Columbiana County squads match touchdowns in a real thriller but failure to succeed on an extra point attempt cost Coach Bud Bucher's club a chance for at least a tie.

Sparked by the aerial game of quarterback Denny Reese, Lisbon nearly unseated their 20th ranked rivals from among the state's elite with a last-minute scoring threat but time ran out and the Bulldogs managed to keep their unbeaten skein intact.

Reese, who scored one of Lisbon's two touchdowns, completed five of 10 passes for 123 yards of his team's total of 239, while Palestine ground out 257 yards.

A see-saw game all the way, Palestine scored within the first four minutes of the first quarter after taking the opening kickoff and moving to the Lisbon 1-yard stripe from where fullback Beau Bell plunged across. Woods ran for the extra-points conversion.

Bucher's Devils roared right back only minutes later as halfback Tom Brooks broke loose to the Palestine 25 on the kickoff and moved the ball to the 4 on another run, but the scoring chance ended with help of a five-yard penalty and a stubborn defense of the Palestine eleven.

Halfback George Morris, one of the district's fastest, scored Palestine's second touchdown in the second quarter on a 9-yard plunge off tackle. The score was set up on a short punt by Lisbon that rolled backwards and stopped dead on the Lisbon 49. Three plays produced the touchdown and Morris ran the extra points to give his team a 16-0 lead.

With less than three minutes to play in the first half, Reese took to the air lanes and moved Lisbon to the Palestine four-yard line with help of a 37-yard pass—incomplete but called good because of pass interference—from where Denny Johnson scored.

Lisbon went into a fake kick formation on the extra point play, Reese's pass was batted down and the Devils chances for a tie were thwarted.

Lisbon threatened only once in a scoreless third quarter which saw a drive end on the Palestine 16 while two other marches ended 20-yards short of the goal line.

Reese sparked Lisbon to its second touchdown in the fourth quarter with a long pass to Denny Johnson who made an over-the-head catch at the Palestine 14-yard line. Reese scored on fourth down and Williams made the successful conversion on an end run to make the score 16-14 which is how the game ended.

Lisbon, although losing, had a 10-8 edge in first downs, and monopolized the offensive play by running 54 plays to Palestine's 39. Morris's eight points gave him a total of 48 scored in his team's four victories of the season.

Early Birds Line Up To Get Series Tickets

NEW YORK (AP) — About 25 persons lined up at the Yankee Stadium early today waiting for bleacher seats to go on sale for the third game of the World Series.

Several women were in the group which passed the time by drinking coffee in the 55-degree temperature. Two gave their names as Mrs. Catherine Parent of Belmont, N.H., and Mrs. Roy Ince, of Laconia, N.H.

It's Rush Vs. Larsen Today

Precedent Against Yanks As World Series Resumes

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Not only Milwaukee's big bats and strong arms, but precedent was against the New York Yankees today as they tried to pull themselves off the floor for what now would be regarded as a miracle World Series triumph.

Trailing two games to none as they faced the Braves' Bob Rush in the third game, the Yankees found themselves in the same predicament of 27 previous World Series teams.

Of those first two-game losers, only three—the 1921 New York Giants, the 1955 Brooklyn Dodgers and the 1956 Yankees—bounced back to win the series.

The Yankees were favored 7 to 5 to win the Yankee Stadium opener behind Don Larsen.

A huge crowd of close to 70,000 was expected to attend despite the threat of rain. A postponement would not cause Yankee Manager Casey Stengel to switch his pitching selection but Fred Haney, Milwaukee skipper, hinted broadly he would sidetrack Bob Rush for his southpaw ace, Warren Spahn, who won the opener.

"We've got the momentum," he said. "It's always been my experience, when you've got the other fellow on the run, you don't let up. You've got to go after them with your best."

Stengel had his groggy athletes out for an early workout Friday in an effort to sharpen their batting eyes.

"To be honest with you," he said, "I'm a little concerned about my players. They haven't been hitting for more than a month now. There's two or three players who haven't been hitting all year.

"As a matter of fact, the fielding has been downright bad, too. Those other fellows have been hitting 'em where my outfielders can't get them. And they've been hitting them through my infield, too.

Stengel said he was undecided about his lineup but he hinted broadly he would use Norm Siebern in left field and Jerry Lumpe at third base. Both are left-handed hitters. Siebern replaced Elston Howard in the first inning Thursday after the left fielder was injured trying to catch Lew Burdette's drive that just cleared the fence.

Howard worked out behind the plate Friday and said he was ready to play anytime Casey asked him to.

"Howard's all right," Stengel said, "and I'd have him catching if they had gone with a left-hander. Now I just don't know. (Yogi) Berra will be behind the plate."

Haney, who insisted it was still a tough series, despite his obvious advantage said, he would field the same lineup and batting order that racked up five Yankee pitchers for 15 hits in inflicting one of the worst defeats upon the proud American Leaguers in World Series history. That meant left-handed hitters Billy Bruton, the series batting star thus far, would be in center, Wes Covington in left and Frank Torre at first base.

Rush, a 32-year-old right-hander, was making his first start in a World Series. His season record was 10-6. Larsen, who pitched his perfect game against the Dodgers in the 1956 series, was appearing in his fifth World Series game.

Colts, Bears Play Tonight

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Baltimore Colts, twice conqueror of the Chicago Bears last season, try to halt the mighty Midwesterners tonight in a vital National Football League contest.

The Colts, spearheaded by the pinpoint passing of quarterbacks Johnny Unitas and George Shaw and the powerful running of Lenny Moore, L. G. Dupre and Alan Ameche, will be the first serious test for the Chicagoans.

The Bears, under the shrewd coaching eye of George Halas, romped through their exhibition schedule, winning six straight. They opened the regular season last Sunday with a 34-20 victory over Green Bay. Baltimore knocked off defending champion Detroit, 28-15, also without much effort.

Tonight's other game finds Washington playing the Cardinals in Chicago.

Sunday, Joe Perry, a nine-year veteran, likely will break Steve Van Buren's rushing record as he leads the San Francisco 49ers against the Los Angeles Rams at home. Cleveland is at Pittsburgh, Detroit at Green Bay and New York tackles the Eagles at Philadelphia in other games.

The Bears, who finished fifth last season, dropped 21-10 and 29-14 encounters to the Colts during the 1957 campaign. The Chicago team will be counting on Willie Galimore, their brilliant breakaway runner, and the passing of Ed Brown to counteract the varied Colt offense.

Fishermen Club Plans Election

The Hancock County Fishermen's Club Friday night launched plans for the election meeting to be held Nov. 4.

The group met at the Christian Church in Pughtown but next month's meeting will be at the home of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post at New Cumberland.

The group voted to change meetings to the first Tuesday of each month.

There will be a luncheon and refreshments and a guest speaker. A wild life film will be shown.

Harl Stover, president, who presided last night, urged a big turnout for the election meeting, when officers will be named for 1959.

Youth Slated For Hearing

Faces Murder Count In Beating Of Man

CINCINNATI (AP) — Lawrence Zwick, 19, is scheduled for a preliminary hearing today on a murder charge in the fatal beating of a penniless 52-year-old man.

Police filed the charge Friday and also asked Juvenile Court to waive jurisdiction over Ed Garrett and Andrew Davis, both 17.

Police Lt. Charles Martin said the three made statements implicating each other in the death last Tuesday night of Everett Duncan.

Duncan's body was found under a viaduct bridge.

Investigators said Garrett, who first spilled out the story of the beating to police, told them Zwick slugged and stomped on the man and threw him over an embankment.

But Zwick said Friday that Garrett "gave him a worse working over than I did."

Zwick later decided to say nothing more. He said: "I've said enough and I'm going to revoke the statement I already made."

Officers said Garrett told them the three youths had been drinking wine on a corner and when Duncan came along, decided to roll him for his money.

The story came out, police said, after Garrett was arrested for drunkenness and told the story to another jail inmate who relayed it to prosecution officials.

Police said all three have juvenile records.

Zwick, who had been free on bond on an attempted burglary charge, also faces another charge today.

His wife Delores, whom he married when he was 15, charged he has not supported their two children since June 27.

Bricker Claims Welfare-Statism Threatening U.S.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Republican Sen. John W. Bricker says the "disease of welfare-statism is threatening the freedom of America."

In an address Friday to a statewide meeting of Young Ohioans for Bricker, a campaign organization aiding his bid for a third term in the U.S. Senate, Bricker said:

"Our freedom for individual achievement has accomplished more than any other nation in history in the fields of science, technology, medicine, sanitation and industry. However, it is being sapped by an ever-expanding central government and its bureaucracy.

"From there, the direction is centralized world-government — a kind of benevolent, paternalistic super-state different from the Soviet empire in no essential respect, except that the Soviet Union might be only a member rather than its leader."

Clerk Of Courts Lists $4,437 Fees To County

LISBON — John W. Peterson, clerk of courts, reported a total of $4,437 was received by the county in fees collected in Common Pleas Court and the Car Title Department in September.

The clerk said $5,308 was paid to the state from the collection of sales and use taxes, with the county receiving $56 for its 1 per cent share. The state also received $1,098 from car title fees.

There were 74 civil cases filed in Common Pleas Court, the report showed. The title department issued 2,783 auto titles, 29 duplicate titles, 653 memorandums, 1,337 notations of lien, 1,177 cancelations of liens and 787 acknowledgements.

Borough Bid Will Be Aired

Ohio View Club Told Of Township Move

A hearing will be held Oct. 14 in Beaver County Court on Industry Township's petition for borough status, according to Guy Lang, secretary - treasurer of the township's Board of Supervisors.

Lang said the township now has three supervisors but with a borough status there would be seven councilmen and a burgess.

A petition was circulated among all residents in the area and 90 per cent signed their approval to borough government.

Reasons and advantages of the new type of government were reported by Lang at the meeting of the Ohio View Community Club Monday night. He urged club members to attend the hearing. Midland's master plan was reviewed and progress was reported toward incorporating the township.

The club met in the Logan School in Ohio View. Clyde Piquiet, vice president, presided in the absence of the president.

Mrs. William Benek, hostess chairman, announced that the club is planning a harvest ball Nov. 1, and reported on the two summer projects, the strawberry festival and the club picnic. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Edwin Fox and Mrs. Edward Kramer. Mrs. John Parsons won a prize.

The next meeting will be Oct. 27 in the Logan School.

Youth Slated For Hearing

Faces Murder Count In Beating Of Man

CINCINNATI (AP) — Lawrence Zwick, 19, is scheduled for a preliminary hearing today on a murder charge in the fatal beating of a penniless 52-year-old man.

Police filed the charge Friday and also asked Juvenile Court to waive jurisdiction over Ed Garrett and Andrew Davis, both 17.

Police Lt. Charles Martin said the three made statements implicating each other in the death last Tuesday night of Everett Duncan.

Duncan's body was found under a viaduct bridge.

Investigators said Garrett, who first spilled out the story of the beating to police, told them Zwick slugged and stomped on the man and threw him over an embankment.

But Zwick said Friday that Garrett "gave him a worse working over than I did."

Zwick later decided to say nothing more. He said: "I've said enough and I'm going to revoke the statement I already made."

Officers said Garrett told them the three youths had been drinking wine on a corner and when Duncan came along, decided to roll him for his money.

The story came out, police said, after Garrett was arrested for drunkenness and told the story to another jail inmate who relayed it to prosecution officials.

Police said all three have juvenile records.

Zwick, who had been free on bond on an attempted burglary charge, also faces another charge today.

His wife Delores, whom he married when he was 15, charged he has not supported their two children since June 27.

Bricker Claims Welfare-Statism Threatening U.S.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Republican Sen. John W. Bricker says the "disease of welfare-statism is threatening the freedom of America."

In an address Friday to a statewide meeting of Young Ohioans for Bricker, a campaign organization aiding his bid for a third term in the U.S. Senate, Bricker said:

"Our freedom for individual achievement has accomplished more than any other nation in history in the fields of science, technology, medicine, sanitation and industry. However, it is being sapped by an ever-expanding central government and its bureaucracy.

"From there, the direction is centralized world-government — a kind of benevolent, paternalistic super-state different from the Soviet empire in no essential respect, except that the Soviet Union might be only a member rather than its leader."

'Spaceship' To Be Seen At Midland For 2 Days

An 84-foot "spaceship," the USSSX1 from Mars — Mars, Pa., that is — will be on display in Midland Tuesday, and possibly Wednesday as a part of Fire Prevention Week.

The ship will be located on Midland Ave. between 6th and 7th Sts. and is being sponsored by Midland firemen to raise money for their emergency fund. The public may view the interior of the ship for a small admission price.

The Midland High School Marching Band, sponsored by the firemen, will participate in the annual Beaver Valley firemen's parade to be held in Baden Wednesday evening. Midland firemen will attend with their equipment.

Vincent D'Itri, acting fire chief, said, if weather permits, there will be a demonstration of equipment and its operation at each Midland school area and possible fire drills on Thursday.

Firemen will attend a fire school Saturday.

The training, which began Monday, ended with a banquet last night.

drive but it lasted only four plays and Craig Burbick punted from East Liverpool's end zone with less than six minutes remaining in the game.

Rayen kept possession for only five plays before fumbling and John Horger recovered for the Potters with 2:08 left in the game. The Potters moved from their own 15 to the Rayen 44 on four rushes and a pass from Mackall to Goodballet which was good for 25 yards, but time ran out before an actual scoring chance could develop.

For East Liverpool, it was its second loss of the year against one win and a tie with Akron St. Vincent. Rayen won its second game in three starts and the ninth over East Liverpool since 1920.

Street Equipment May Be Bought

Possible purchase of a slag spreader and a small roller for street and road work was aired at a meeting of the Liverpool Township trustees Friday night at the City Hall.

The trustees discussed the purchase of a slag spreader to enable the township to do some seal coating of roadways itself. They also discussed the purchase of a small roller for work on short streets where larger contractor's equipment cannot be taken. No action on the proposed purchases was taken last night.

The purchase of batteries for fire trucks of the Liverpool east and west volunteer departments was approved.

A proposed charge by the city water department for use of hydrants in the township was reviewed and the trustees plan to obtain legal advice on the matter.

The next meeting will be Oct. 17.

Trade Show Sponsors Consolidate Activity

To consolidate activities of trade shows under their direction into logical groupings, William E. and Donald C. Little of George F. Little Management of New York City have changed from a partnership to two corporations as of last Wednesday. The firm has been expanding in both size and scope during the past few years in the development of new markets. It was the decision of the partners to establish a separation between the gift shows and the other types of shows they presently conduct.

The new companies will be known as George Little Management, Inc., which will conduct the New York Lamp & Home Furnishing Accessories Show, New York Stationery Show, Atlantic City China & Glass Show and the National China, Glass & Tableware Show. The gift shows held semi-annually in New York, Boston, Philadelphia — all of which are sponsored by The National Gift and Art Association — and Washington will be managed by Little Brothers Shows, Inc. Headquarters of the two corporations remain in New York.

6-Player Deal Completed By Cards, Reds

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, having launched the winter trading season in a six-player deal with Cincinnati, are hinting at further trades in the immediate offing.

"There are several other hot deals on the fire which could change the roster of players going to Japan," said a Cardinal spokesman who would not elaborate. The Red Birds leave Tuesday on an exhibition tour of the Far East.

In Friday's trade slumping RBI men Del Ennis and George Crowe were the big names. But it was rookie pitcher Bob Mabe and shortstop Alex Grammas who were singled out as the key players by their new bosses.

The fifth-place Cardinals swapped Ennis, 33, Mabe, 29, and infielder Eddie Kasko, 26, to the fourth-place Redlegs for Crowe, 35, Grammas, 30, and pitcher Alex Kellner, 34.

Ennis led the Cards with 105 RBIs and had 24 home runs in 1957, but the big outfielder had only 47 RBIs and three homers to go with a .261 batting average this season. Crowe, a first baseman who took over for the ailing Ted Kluszewski and belted 31 homers and 92 RBIs in 1957, slipped this year to 61 RBIs, seven home runs and a .275 batting average.

Grammas, whom the Cardinals traded to Cincinnati in 1956 after investing $100,000 in him, will be given a chance at shortstop, a position where the Cardinals tried no fewer than eight players this year, including Kasko.

Chester Man Convicted In Fraud Check Trial

Chester Fred Looman, 20, of Chester was found guilty of passing a fraudulent check by a Common Pleas Court jury at Lisbon after 45 minutes deliberation Friday afternoon.

Looman was indicted for passing an $84 check at City Hospital in July. Looman said he believed the check, given to him by Clarence Powell of Coraopolis, was valid. He said Powell identified himself as "half owner of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp."

But Powell testified the defendant, along with two brothers—Robert Looman, 30, of Hookstown and Floyd G. Looman of Mulberry St. — endorsed and cashed checks he wrote and split the money with them.

Judge Raymond Buzzard delayed sentencing pending time allowed to move for a new trial. Prosecutor G. William Brokaw said trial of a fraudulent check charge against Floyd Looman will begin Monday.

Corn Referendum Set For Nov. 25

LISBON—County farmers with corn allotments, or any farmer who produced corn in 1958, will be eligible to vote in the referendum to be held Tuesday, Nov. 25, according to E. A. Fishel, chairman of the Columbiana County Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation committee.

One choice will be to discontinue corn allotments completely so that there will be no restrictions, with price support of 90 per cent of the average market price of corn for the last three years, but not less than 65 per cent of parity.

The second choice will be to continue corn allotments as they have been for the past several years with price support at 75-90 per cent of parity, depending on the supply situation.

A simple majority of over 50 per cent will determine which plan will be used.

Dollar-wise, the plan with no allotments would support corn at about $1.10 per bushel. The second plan, with corn allotments, would support corn around $1.30 to $1.40 per bushel, Fishel said.

Polling places for the referendum will be announced later by the A. S. C. committee.

Lisbon Youth Admits Breaking And Entering

LISBON — Harold C. Bailey, 18, of N. Market St. was bound over to the Grand Jury Friday night by Mayor John Todd under $500 bond for breaking and entering. He pleaded guilty.

Bailey and a 16 - year - old Lisbon area youth admitted breaking into Carl Brunner's apartment at 322 N. Market St. Sept. 16, taking a Savage highpowered rifle, hunting knife and sheath, two smaller knives and a box of shells.

The boy is scheduled for a hearing before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin Monday for his part in the burglary.

Vegetable Gardeners Urged To Clear Lots

SALINEVILLE — Mayor Karl Lindner today suggested owners of vegetable gardens clear the debris from the lots now that the growing season is over.

Mayor Lindner said a village ordinance requires such lots be kept clear and police will be instructed to advise owners to clean the property or face a citation.

The mayor pointed out the lack of discarded vegetables would curb vandalism of the nature which occurred the past week when youths threw tomatoes and cucumbers at homes.

Pottery Stock Buyers Will Get Certificates

EAST PALESTINE — The issuing of stock certificates — part of the stock - mortgage bond refinancing of the W. S. George Pottery Co. a year ago — will begin Monday, Paul J. Steffens, president, announced today.

Persons who purchased the stock may obtain the certificates at the office of the plant superintendent at Plant 1 starting Monday at 9 a. m.

The stock issue was sold at a minimum of 8 shares for $500 as part of the reorganization and financing of the pottery firm which resumed production early this year.

Council To Air Legislation To Vacate Alleys

Legislation calling for vacating two short stretches of alleys near the Patterson Foundry & Machine Co. plant in East End is scheduled for presentation to City Council at its first October meeting Monday night.

The action would affect Puritan Alley, which is perpendicular to Ohio Ave. and St. George St., and about 40 feet of Brushton Alley, which is parallel to the two larger thoroughfares.

Vacation of the two stretches was requested several months ago by the owners of abutting property, the Patterson firm and the Ohio Power Co. At the time, Patterson's said the property would be used to expand employe parking space.

Not drafted yet, but scheduled for presentation is an amended appropriation ordinance providing funds for some of the requests totaling $17,280 that were presented to Council at its meeting Sept. 15 by Safety-Service Director Dan Maggianetti.

The director's major request was for $10,000 for additional oiling and seal-coating of unsurfaced streets. Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper said he will draft the measure when he receives data from councilmen on the items that are ready for action.

The appropriation amendment also will provide additional payroll funds in virtually all city departments to enable them to finish out the year. The new appropriation is necessary because salary funds set up at the beginning of 1958 were not augmented when city employes were granted a 10 per cent pay hike about four months ago.

'Spaceship' To Be Seen At Midland For 2 Days

An 84-foot "spaceship," the USSSX1 from Mars — Mars, Pa., that is — will be on display in Midland Tuesday, and possibly Wednesday as a part of Fire Prevention Week.

The ship will be located on Midland Ave. between 6th and 7th Sts. and is being sponsored by Midland firemen to raise money for their emergency fund. The public may view the interior of the ship for a small admission price.

The Midland High School Marching Band, sponsored by the firemen, will participate in the annual Beaver Valley firemen's parade to be held in Baden Wednesday evening. Midland firemen will attend with their equipment.

Vincent D'Itri, acting fire chief, said, if weather permits, there will be a demonstration of equipment and its operation at each Midland school area and possible fire drills on Thursday.

Firemen will attend a fire school Saturday.

The training, which began Monday, ended with a banquet last night.

drive but it lasted only four plays and Craig Burbick punted from East Liverpool's end zone with less than six minutes remaining in the game.

Rayen kept possession for only five plays before fumbling and John Horger recovered for the Potters with 2:08 left in the game. The Potters moved from their own 15 to the Rayen 44 on four rushes and a pass from Mackall to Goodballet which was good for 25 yards, but time ran out before an actual scoring chance could develop.

For East Liverpool, it was its second loss of the year against one win and a tie with Akron St. Vincent. Rayen won its second game in three starts and the ninth over East Liverpool since 1920.

Street Equipment May Be Bought

Possible purchase of a slag spreader and a small roller for street and road work was aired at a meeting of the Liverpool Township trustees Friday night at the City Hall.

The trustees discussed the purchase of a slag spreader to enable the township to do some seal coating of roadways itself. They also discussed the purchase of a small roller for work on short streets where larger contractor's equipment cannot be taken. No action on the proposed purchases was taken last night.

The purchase of batteries for fire trucks of the Liverpool east and west volunteer departments was approved.

A proposed charge by the city water department for use of hydrants in the township was reviewed and the trustees plan to obtain legal advice on the matter.

The next meeting will be Oct. 17.

Trade Show Sponsors Consolidate Activity

To consolidate activities of trade shows under their direction into logical groupings, William E. and Donald C. Little of George F. Little Management of New York City have changed from a partnership to two corporations as of last Wednesday. The firm has been expanding in both size and scope during the past few years in the development of new markets. It was the decision of the partners to establish a separation between the gift shows and the other types of shows they presently conduct.

The new companies will be known as George Little Management, Inc., which will conduct the New York Lamp & Home Furnishing Accessories Show, New York Stationery Show, Atlantic City China & Glass Show and the National China, Glass & Tableware Show. The gift shows held semi-annually in New York, Boston, Philadelphia — all of which are sponsored by The National Gift and Art Association — and Washington will be managed by Little Brothers Shows, Inc. Headquarters of the two corporations remain in New York.

6-Player Deal Completed By Cards, Reds

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, having launched the winter trading season in a six-player deal with Cincinnati, are hinting at further trades in the immediate offing.

"There are several other hot deals on the fire which could change the roster of players going to Japan," said a Cardinal spokesman who would not elaborate. The Red Birds leave Tuesday on an exhibition tour of the Far East.

In Friday's trade slumping RBI men Del Ennis and George Crowe were the big names. But it was rookie pitcher Bob Mabe and shortstop Alex Grammas who were singled out as the key players by their new bosses.

The fifth-place Cardinals swapped Ennis, 33, Mabe, 29, and infielder Eddie Kasko, 26, to the fourth-place Redlegs for Crowe, 35, Grammas, 30, and pitcher Alex Kellner, 34.

Ennis led the Cards with 105 RBIs and had 24 home runs in 1957, but the big outfielder had only 47 RBIs and three homers to go with a .261 batting average this season. Crowe, a first baseman who took over for the ailing Ted Kluszewski and belted 31 homers and 92 RBIs in 1957, slipped this year to 61 RBIs, seven home runs and a .275 batting average.

Grammas, whom the Cardinals traded to Cincinnati in 1956 after investing $100,000 in him, will be given a chance at shortstop, a position where the Cardinals tried no fewer than eight players this year, including Kasko.

Chester Man Convicted In Fraud Check Trial

Chester Fred Looman, 20, of Chester was found guilty of passing a fraudulent check by a Common Pleas Court jury at Lisbon after 45 minutes deliberation Friday afternoon.

Looman was indicted for passing an $84 check at City Hospital in July. Looman said he believed the check, given to him by Clarence Powell of Coraopolis, was valid. He said Powell identified himself as "half owner of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp."

But Powell testified the defendant, along with two brothers—Robert Looman, 30, of Hookstown and Floyd G. Looman of Mulberry St. — endorsed and cashed checks he wrote and split the money with them.

Judge Raymond Buzzard delayed sentencing pending time allowed to move for a new trial. Prosecutor G. William Brokaw said trial of a fraudulent check charge against Floyd Looman will begin Monday.

Corn Referendum Set For Nov. 25

LISBON—County farmers with corn allotments, or any farmer who produced corn in 1958, will be eligible to vote in the referendum to be held Tuesday, Nov. 25, according to E. A. Fishel, chairman of the Columbiana County Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation committee.

One choice will be to discontinue corn allotments completely so that there will be no restrictions, with price support of 90 per cent of the average market price of corn for the last three years, but not less than 65 per cent of parity.

The second choice will be to continue corn allotments as they have been for the past several years with price support at 75-90 per cent of parity, depending on the supply situation.

A simple majority of over 50 per cent will determine which plan will be used.

Dollar-wise, the plan with no allotments would support corn at about $1.10 per bushel. The second plan, with corn allotments, would support corn around $1.30 to $1.40 per bushel, Fishel said.

Polling places for the referendum will be announced later by the A. S. C. committee.

Lisbon Youth Admits Breaking And Entering

LISBON — Harold C. Bailey, 18, of N. Market St. was bound over to the Grand Jury Friday night by Mayor John Todd under $500 bond for breaking and entering. He pleaded guilty.

Bailey and a 16 - year - old Lisbon area youth admitted breaking into Carl Brunner's apartment at 322 N. Market St. Sept. 16, taking a Savage highpowered rifle, hunting knife and sheath, two smaller knives and a box of shells.

The boy is scheduled for a hearing before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin Monday for his part in the burglary.

Vegetable Gardeners Urged To Clear Lots

SALINEVILLE — Mayor Karl Lindner today suggested owners of vegetable gardens clear the debris from the lots now that the growing season is over.

Mayor Lindner said a village ordinance requires such lots be kept clear and police will be instructed to advise owners to clean the property or face a citation.

The mayor pointed out the lack of discarded vegetables would curb vandalism of the nature which occurred the past week when youths threw tomatoes and cucumbers at homes.

Pottery Stock Buyers Will Get Certificates

EAST PALESTINE — The issuing of stock certificates — part of the stock - mortgage bond refinancing of the W. S. George Pottery Co. a year ago — will begin Monday, Paul J. Steffens, president, announced today.

Persons who purchased the stock may obtain the certificates at the office of the plant superintendent at Plant 1 starting Monday at 9 a. m.

The stock issue was sold at a minimum of 8 shares for $500 as part of the reorganization and financing of the pottery firm which resumed production early this year.

Council To Air Legislation To Vacate Alleys

Legislation calling for vacating two short stretches of alleys near the Patterson Foundry & Machine Co. plant in East End is scheduled for presentation to City Council at its first October meeting Monday night.

The action would affect Puritan Alley, which is perpendicular to Ohio Ave. and St. George St., and about 40 feet of Brushton Alley, which is parallel to the two larger thoroughfares.

Vacation of the two stretches was requested several months ago by the owners of abutting property, the Patterson firm and the Ohio Power Co. At the time, Patterson's said the property would be used to expand employe parking space.

Not drafted yet, but scheduled for presentation is an amended appropriation ordinance providing funds for some of the requests totaling $17,280 that were presented to Council at its meeting Sept. 15 by Safety-Service Director Dan Maggianetti.

The director's major request was for $10,000 for additional oiling and seal-coating of unsurfaced streets. Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper said he will draft the measure when he receives data from councilmen on the items that are ready for action.

The appropriation amendment also will provide additional payroll funds in virtually all city departments to enable them to finish out the year. The new appropriation is necessary because salary funds set up at the beginning of 1958 were not augmented when city employes were granted a 10 per cent pay hike about four months ago.
